

FELTON GIRL ACQUITTED OF MURDER COUNT

Finds Verdict Too Wonderful To Believe She Says

Lonoke, Ark., June 26.—(AP)—Slim Bernice Felton, who found her acquittal on a murder charge "too wonderful to believe," faced federal prosecution today after a night spent outside the city on the advice of the mayor who said "a lot of people here didn't like the verdict."

The 18-year-old Rockford, Ill., girl and her father cut short celebration of her acquittal in the homicide killing of Victor Gates for which her erstwhile lover, Lester Brockelhurst, was sentenced to die in the electric chair. They spent the night in a tourist camp near the city after Mayor George Bailey told them the townspeople "didn't like to see them parading up and down our streets after their victory."

Today she was scheduled to appear in Little Rock to answer federal charge of transporting Gates' stolen automobile from Arkansas to New York.

A jury of farmers acquitted the girl of first degree murder and accessory charges with 80 minutes of deliberation last night after a one-day trial.

The girl won her freedom only a few minutes after the 23-year-old Brockelhurst, semi-conscious and moaning, had been taken to the death house at Tucker prison farm to await electrocution August 27.

The Galesburg, Ill., hitch-hiker, who testified he believed himself the father of the Felton girl's unborn baby, turned against her at her trial. Appearing as a state witness, he declared he killed three men and committed numerous robberies during a two-months' tour of 18 states in order that he might furnish her with money and clothes.

She denied his assertions, telling the jury that fear for her own life caused her to aid him, particularly in disposal of Gates' body after the roadside killing of the Little Rock man near Lonoke.

Prosecutor George Hartje demanded the death penalty for Bernice—a sentence never yet given a woman in Arkansas.

The acquittal verdict for Miss Felton brought an outburst of enthusiasm from the crowded courtroom. Members of her immediate family hugged and kissed her, then scores of strangers pressed around offering congratulations and demanding autographs.

"It's too wonderful to believe," Bernice said, smiling. "I can't thank this jury enough."

Her father, Abraham Felton, Rockford WPA worker, danced down the courthouse steps, shaking hands right and left and shouting that he would buy the drinks for the crowd.

"I want a new trial," said Brockelhurst when called before Judge Waggoner to receive sentence. The jurist ignored the outburst, and passed sentence.

The "crime tourist" stiffened and fell face downward, two state rangers grabbed him before he hit the floor and carried him from the courtroom.

Brockelhurst and the girl tore away the last pretense of affection in their testimony yesterday, each declaring no desire to marry the other.

Admits Theander Murder
Brockelhurst testified he killed Albin Theander, Rockford tailor, to get a car in which he and Bernice could leave Illinois for Salt Lake City; that he killed Jack Griffith, Fort Worth, when the man attempted to prevent him holding up a woman, and that he killed Gates to get a car for Bernice.

MADRID SIEGE LAUNCHED WITH RENEWED VIGOR

Predict Madrid's Fall Will End European Tension

Madrid, June 26.—(AP)—Two heavy insurgent attacks were repulsed today in a sudden spurt of activity on the long quiet front southwest of Madrid.

Defense commanders said insurgent assaults on government positions on La Marañosa mountain, south of the Tajo river, failed with heavy losses. They said the Madrid troops counter-attacked and seized munitions abandoned by the retreating insurgents.

Both charges, they said, were preceded by intensive air and artillery bombardments of the government lines.

By The Associated Press
A new plan to get a measure of Italian and German co-operation in the international naval patrol of Spain was reported being prepared today in Paris.

Informed sources said the program provided for placing Italian observers on French ships and German representatives on British vessels, to maintain supervision of any movement of arms or foreign fighters to Spain.

That scheme was an amplification of the Franco-British proposal that their ships fill the gaps in the neutrality cordon created by withdrawal of Italian and German ships.

Predict Madrid's Fall
Authoritative Rome sources declared, however, Italy would oppose maintenance of the patrol by British and France alone. In some Italian quarters it was said there was no need of closing the holes, because Italian and German ships were continuing an independent watch. While participating in the neutrality patrol they had been stationed along the eastern Spanish coast, off government-held territory.

Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia, asserted Madrid would fall shortly and the European crisis thereby ended.

German newspapers, although they expressed approval of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's attitude toward the Reich as outlined in his speech yesterday, blamed Britain and France for the breakdown of co-operation among the four great western European powers.

On the actual fighting front, insurgents were reported massing troops in the Jarama region southwest of Madrid, menacing the insur-

IRWIN FLEES HOTEL AFTER BEING SEEN

Easter Slayer of Bronx Residents In Cleveland

Cleveland, June 26.—(AP)—An artist who police said "definitely" was Robert Irwin fled his shabby, dim-lighted room and left only a slender trail today for authorities seeking him for New York City's famous Gedeon murders.

A kitchen girl, a clerk and a half-dozen other employees at a leading downtown hotel identified a bar boy there as the sculptor-divinity student charged with slaying, last March 28, pretty Veronica Gedeon, her mother and a man who roomed at their east side flat in New York.

"The man definitely is Irwin," declared Detective Lieut. Stephen Tozzer as a widespread hunt was started for the fugitive a few hours after he vanished from this Lake Erie city.

The kitchen girl, attractive, chubby, dark-haired Henrietta Kosciarski, 19, started police on an intensive search for the former insane asylum inmate, accused of murder in triplicate.

She recognized, as she thumbed through a detective story magazine Wednesday night, a resemblance to the 29-year-old man named as the killer of art's "good-time" girl, and the bar boy who had worked at the hotel for a month and a half.

Miss Kosciarski, who said "I didn't tell police because it occurred to me only as a coincidence," asked him playfully last night:

"Say, Bob, what is your real name, anyhow?"

"Robert Murray, why?" she said was the reply.

"Then I said did you ever hear of Robert Irwin and he turned his back to me and said 'no'—sounding kind of indifferent. I didn't see the expression on his face. He turned and walked out of the hotel kitchen and that was the last I ever saw of him!"

Close Resemblance
She took the picture to other hotel employees and all remarked of the close resemblance. Three hours later, she said, "nobody knew where he was."

Police were called and the search started early today for the man sought throughout the nation since early in April—the man named by Assistant Chief Inspector John A. Lyons of New York police as the Easter Sunday slayer of Miss Gedeon, her mother, Mary, 54, and a male roomer in their Beekman Hill apartment.

Detective squads, piqued at the time elapsed between his disappearance,

Steel Workers Return To Mills Today Under Protection of Troops

Ohio Governor Has Ordered Soldiers to Guard Men

BULLETIN

Columbus, O., June 26.—(AP)—The C. I. O. filed in Federal court today a suit to enjoin Gov. Martin Davey from using the National Guard troops in the Mahoning valley to protect men returning to work in the strike-embroiled steel mills.

Federal Judge Mel G. Underwood set a hearing for near Thursday on the motion.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Youngstown, O., June 26.—(AP)—Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, declared today "the strike will be won" as operators in Mahoning valley mills asserted "it's over as far as we are concerned."

Murray made the statement in Pittsburgh, the first formal expression from a C. I. O. leader since workers began to filter into the Ohio mills under protection of the Ohio National Guard.

The movement began last night after Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio gave assurances of guard protection on the collapse of mediation efforts by a Federal board in Cleveland.

Murray said 14,000 of the 100,000 men made idle by the strike called May 26, were at work in the mills this morning.

Claims that their plants were "flooded with workers" were made by officials of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and the Republic Steel Corporation today.

Mills Active
Mills of the concerns, closed for a month in a strike called by the steel workers committee, hummed with activity. Guardsmen and city police guarded the movements of workers in and out of the plants, opened last night.

The strike was called against Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Inland Steel, and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, over refusal of the companies to accede to demands of the SWOC for signed labor contracts.

In Johnstown, Pa., the Cambria works of Bethlehem began to resume operations.

"The strike is over as far as we are concerned," said Roy Leventy, district manager of Republic Steel.

The SWOC in a full page advertisement published here today, declared "the first 48 hours of the back to work movement show that the strikers are holding to a man."

After a change in shifts at the plant at 7 A. M., Leventy said between 4,000 and 4,500 men out of a normal force of 6,000 had entered the gates.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube officials estimated 60 per cent of a normal 14,000 employees had returned.

Plan Protest
Meanwhile, in Cincinnati, regional executives of the C. I. O. said more than 2,000 persons were on their way from Cincinnati to Columbus to protest to Gov. Davey against the use of the troops in policing the back-to-work movement.

C. I. O. units in telegrams to President Roosevelt and to Secretary of Labor Perkins who had pleaded for maintenance of the status quo pending settlement of the strike, protested against "the action of Gov. Davey in using the National Guard in an attempt to break the spirit of the steel strikers."

The telegrams said that "the strikers have faith that you will do all in your power to have an election (among steel workers) as recommended by the mediation board."

May Issue Statement
The chairman of that board, Charles P. Taft, II, announced late last night that the board, of which Edward F. McGarry of the labor department and Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin are the other members, would issue today what may be a "final" statement.

The board spent a fruitless week at Cleveland endeavoring to find some meeting ground for the opposing factions. It was unable, however, to break the determination of the C. I. O. on the one hand to continue its strike until it obtains a signed contract, and the steel companies on the other refusing pointblank to sign any contract with C. I. O.

Pennsylvania continued to echo with the controversy that has grown out of Gov. George Earle's action in imposing martial law at Johnstown last Sunday and thereby closing the Cambria works of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation where a C. I. O. strike was in

Family of Missing Long Island Society Woman Issues Statement

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—The family of Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, missing Long Island society matron, said today she never had suffered from any mental disorder and that they sincerely hoped she was still alive and well.

At the same time they expressed satisfaction with federal and local authorities investigating the strange disappearance, and quashed rumors she had returned to the trim little farm house from which she vanished June 9.

The family's views were set forth in answers to a list of questions submitted by newspaper men. There were 28 questions, but only seven answers.

The list was handed to Frank McDonnell, brother of Mrs. Parsons, and was examined by him and his brother, Howard, and by William H. Parsons, husband of the missing woman.

A few of the questions sought to establish the exact position in the Parsons household of Mrs. Anna Kupryanova, Russian-born woman, who told authorities Mrs. Parsons left home in the company of a middle-aged couple. It was several hours after this departure that a ransom note demanding $25,000 was found.

Busy Doctor

Evansville, Ind., June 26.—(AP)—Two little girls caused a lot of anxiety for Dr. Charles Leich at Welborn Walker hospital for a few minutes.

The surgeon was ready to operate on Maxine Spoud of St. Francisville, Ill., who had developed an infection after removal of a grain of corn from her windpipe. Just then Carolyn Sue Wire, 17 months old, was brought to the hospital in a critical condition from a bean lodged in her windpipe.

Dr. Leich stopped long enough to insert a tube in Carolyn's throat and remove the bean. Then he returned to operate on Maxine.

HORN HONKING EXCORIATED BY CITY COUNCIL

Measures Will Be Used To Halt Nuisance, Dads Decide

The unnecessary sounding of automobile horns in Dixon is to be prohibited by ordinance soon, members of the city council indicated last evening, when Commissioner George Campbell informed the commission of a recently enacted ordinance in Kenosha where the offense is punishable by a fine. Several other cities have taken similar steps to halt the noise, it is said. Commissioner Campbell cited numerous instances where drivers whose cars have been halted on Galena avenue and First street, headed south, become confused by the needless sounding of horns on cars following, often resulting in crashes.

Mayor Slothower added that young married couples sought to advertise their matrimonial venture by parading through the streets in the business section, sounding horns on cars. The council members indicated that a special ordinance may be passed if the practice is not discontinued.

The council adopted a resolution by unanimous vote, making final acceptance of the city's sewage treatment plant and relief sewer system from Contractors E. M. Roche and the Sparks Building Company. The former contractor filed bond covering the one year maintenance clause in his contract.

Outdoor Toilets

Mayor Slothower informed members of the council that Dr. J. B. Werren had been active in a campaign against outdoor toilets in the city limits and had been very successful. According to the mayor's statistics, eight of these nuisances had been eliminated last year by the installation of sewer extensions and thus far this season, three had been replaced with modern facilities.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution presented by Mayor Slothower which authorized the Illinois Municipal League to make collection of the two per cent due the city on fire insurance policies in effect in the city. Many businesses in Dixon, it was stated, carry insurance with outside firms and a two per cent tax is due the city for fire protection, which is to be collected and turned back to the city.

Sam Eastman was granted a permit to conduct a taxi line and two applications for soft drink licenses were granted. The semi-monthly bills, amounting to $3,383.91 were ordered paid.

Heavy Rain, Wind Sweep Community

Amboy Woman Tells of Being Struck by Lightning

Scattered damage to trees and wires resulted from a heavy rain and windstorm which swept over Lee county and parts of northern Illinois Friday afternoon breaking the heat wave and sending temperatures from the upper nineties down to the lower seventies.

Clouds gathered over Dixon about 2:30 P. M., followed by sharp lightning and thunder accompanied by a heavy rainfall of 1.29 inches.

Struck By Bolt
Mrs. A. W. Garth of Amboy had the novel experience of being struck by a bolt of lightning and living to tell of the adventure. The woman was injured in the kitchen of her home shortly after 4:30 P. M. Friday near the close of the electric storm and near-tornado which swept across a wide section of Lee county.

The wind storm flattened a barn on the farm home of Ben Schmah, about three miles east of Amboy. Telephone wires were down and extent of the damage could not be obtained.

Many shade and fruit trees on farms and along the highway between Dixon and Amboy were blown down. One large tree was felled across the highway about two miles north of Lee Center road, taking with it several telephone wires. This interrupted telephone services between Dixon and Amboy and other southern communities. Communication had not been restored at noon today.

Traffic Halted
Traffic on the Amboy road was halted for an hour after the storm while emergency highway crews removed the trees. Several crews were at work Saturday cleaning up the debris along the highway.

John Moos and Albert Conie, farmers living between Dixon and Amboy, lost several hogs which were killed by lightning during the storm.

Mrs. Garth told The Telegraph reporter at Amboy today that she had just grasped the handle of a pump at her kitchen sink when she was struck by the lightning bolt. A window near the sink was open at top and bottom permitting of a current of air in the kitchen.

"Just as I took hold of the pump handle I felt a blast of hot air rushing up at me," Mrs. Garth said. "It was a sensation similar to that of opening the door of a hot oven. Then I noticed a flood of flame apparently coming through the lower opening of the window. My arm was numbed and I felt a burning sensation in my left leg."

"The shock staggered me and I would have fallen had I not grasped the kitchen stove and the edge of the sink."

"In this position I yelled to my sister, Mrs. Carl Garrett, who was across the road. I told her I had been struck. She and my father, Andrew Cluts, came hurriedly into the house, helped to place me on a bed, and then summoned Dr. W. T. Holladay."

"When the doctor arrived he told me I had been struck. He dressed my leg, in which the lightning had burned several holes, and ordered me to bed again. Dr. Holladay told me it was a miracle I had not been killed instantly, since the electric current had passed through my right arm, across the upper part of my body and down to my left leg."

Corn Under Water
Except for burns and nervous shock Mrs. Garth was on the road to recovery Saturday.

The rainstorm left many cornfields, not dried out from Sunday's rain, under several inches of water. The wind and rain also knocked down a large acreage of oats in the southern part of Lee county, but farmers said the crop may turn out all right if the rains do not continue. The storm again did considerable damage by gully-ing numerous farms.

Damage Elsewhere
Elsewhere in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, the storm damaged numerous farm buildings, washed out small grain crops over

Two Slayers of Federal Agent Sentenced to Death on Gallows

Topeka, Kan., June 26.—(AP)—At a five-day trial came to a swift conclusion after Judge Hopkins ruled that testimony regarding other crimes the men had committed was admissible as evidence of a motive for the slaying.

William H. McHale, attorney for Applegate, conferred briefly with the defendants and Harold D. Thomas and John Kramer, Suhray's lawyers, then announced: "The defendants rest."

The jury considered its verdict two hours. Its failure to recommend mercy made the death sentence automatic.

Throughout the trial the defense's main contention was that Suhray and Applegate shot Baker believing he was a holdup man.

BIRTHS—

Mrs. F. O. Coleman of River Forest has been quite ill.

Mrs. Bischoff of Chicago with her father Paul Lord attended the celebration at Grand Detour yesterday.

Francis Newcomer returned from the northwest Friday.

Mrs. Nellie Van Inwegen will leave Monday for Council Bluffs, Ia., later going west for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frey were among the thousands attending the Grand Detour plow centennial yesterday.

Mr. Rhinehart died at the Lincoln hospital at 12:45 p. m. Thursday. Physicians said that a bullet from a 22 caliber rifle had entered his mouth and passed through the top of his head.

His wife testified at the inquest that Rhinehart told her shortly before he was found wounded that he was going to the workshop to shoot a rat.

The deceased is survived by his widow, the former Mabel Gates; a son, William, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Madge Tracy, of Rochelle; two brothers, John E. of Mount Etna, Ind., and Jacob and Vern, both of Rochelle; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, of Lakeland, Fla., and Mrs. Sona Redshaw, Newcastle, Ind.

His father, D. D. Rhinehart, died Feb. 13, 1937, and a brother, Charles E., dropped dead at Whitewater, Wis., last March 2.

An Emergent Communication of Horicon lodge No. 244, A. F. & A. M., will be held Saturday afternoon, June 26, 1937, for the purpose of attending the funeral of George A. Rhinehart, who was a member. Members of the order will meet at the Masonic temple at 2 p. m. sharp. Funeral will be held at 3 p. m.

Captain Robert Peterson, retired U. S. army officer who spent 25 years in the service before retiring and moving to Rochelle three years ago, died June 25 at his home on North Twelfth street.

He entered the service in 1899 and served as a volunteer in the Spanish-American war, later becoming attached to the medical corps. He was born No. 12, 1873, and is survived by his wife, the former Emma Billmore. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the residence and burial will be in Washington Grove cemetery.

Rochelle post No. 403, American Legion, of which the deceased was a member, will furnish a firing squad.

CATHOLICS HINT NAZIS MAY DROP 1933 CONCORDAT

So Reich Can Begin Desired Changes in Religion

Berlin, June 26.—(AP)—Catholic sources predicted today the government would cancel its 1933 concordat with the Vatican to gain a free hand in carrying out changes in Germany, including redistribution of land.

The government-supervised press generally asserted the concordat had been violated by the Catholic bishop of Speyer, Ludwig Sebastian, by reporting non-church matters to the Holy See.

Joseph Buerckel, Nazi district leader in the Saar basin, leveled the charge at the bishop yesterday when the latter was on the witness stand at the trial of a priest accused of slandering Buerckel.

Catholic sources declared they believed the cross-examination had been planned in advance, to give the government an opportunity of charging the church with breaking the Vatican-German accord and making it easier for the government to put agriculture reforms into effect.

The land redistribution program, to begin January 1, involves the pooling of many small farms into collective enterprises, with the individual farmer holding rights corresponding to the amount of land contributed. One reason for the plan is that many a farmer holds two or more pieces of land in separate sections; under the redistribution, his land would be all in one piece.

So far there has been no specific indication the program would affect the Catholic church which has large land holdings.

LICENSED TO WED

Marriage licenses issued by County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock were as follows: Harvey Borst of Sheridan and Miss Dorothy Alice Sohn of Milan; Lowery Marine of Prophetstown and Miss Gladys A. Pray of Neponset; Marvin H. Pirok and Miss Ada Ranch, both of Peoria; Melvin N. Buccola and Miss Ethel M. Clayton both of Dixon; William F. Vouk of Berwyn and Miss Elsie M. Johnson of Marseilles.

BOATS BREAK LOOSE

The high water of the past week has resulted in considerable damage to boat owners and come of their craft broke loose from their moorings and were washed down stream.

Ted Hoyle residing five miles west of Dixon on the north side of the river, recovered two boats, one a motor boat with the engine installed, and a row boat which was identified and claimed by the owner. The motor boat has not been called for.

IN TRAFFIC COURT

Herman Frey, laborer employed at the Dixon state hospital, paid a fine of $3.00 and costs when arraigned before Justice Fremont Kaufman in police court on a speeding charge. Frey was arrested by police on the Brinton avenue. Another speeder was scheduled to appear this evening on Third street last night, when police chased him several blocks at a 50 mile an hour clip before succeeding in halting him.

OVERHAULING OF TAX STRUCTURE IS SUGGESTED

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—Treasury officials disclosed today they would ask the 1938 Congress for a thorough overhauling of the tax structure, designed to make further changes unnecessary for many years.

Under the new system, they said, rates could be varied from year to year, depending on economic conditions and government needs, without changing the general tax laws.

Thus, instead of changing the type of taxes or the method of taxation, Congress could raise or lower existing levies simply by amending the law. Ordinarily, the revenue laws themselves are altered from year to year to meet the changing fiscal needs of the government.

Authorities said they hope to eliminate any existing inequities, clarify the tax statutes and close all revenue "leaks". The tax system was not properly co-ordinated during the fiscal emergencies since the depression, they said.

The treasury is making an all-inclusive study of federal levies with a view to enactment of a new general revenue law. This is apart from the current congressional investigation into tax evasion and avoidance.

The treasury studies will trace the operations of all present taxes, together with their effects on various income classes and on economic and social conditions.

American government archives are housed in a Hall of Records in Washington, which was completed in 1936.

Steel Workers—

progress. (Martial law was lifted yesterday.)

Citizens Appeal

A petition purporting to have 10,255 signatures of employees of the Bethlehem (Pa.) plant of Bethlehem Steel, was presented to Gov. Earle.

"As citizens," it said, "we demand that you * * * take the necessary steps to protect the citizens in their God-given rights to live in peace, to go to and from their work and daily vocations, with the assurance that they will not be molested."

Adding to strikers' woes was an injunction granted by a Canton, Ohio, court which enjoins against any except peaceful, lawful picketing.

Sheriff Joseph T. Nest, accompanied only by two deputies, went down into the musty, ill-lighted cellar which serves as C. I. O. headquarters in Canton and, standing on a chair, read the injunction to about 60 strikers.

With the aid of militia he proposed to remove today the picket barrier which blocks entrance to the Republic Steel Company's Canton plant.

Most of the appropriation bills are out of the way, headed toward Governor Horner's desk for signature or veto, but the University of Illinois' request for more money has been jockeyed into the last rush. Some time before Wednesday midnight the hard-working house, must decide whether the university is to get $804,000 more than the unbalanced budget's figure.

Also still unpassed are the university's controversial bills to create a building commission to construct dormitories and a student center.

Must Settle Relief Issue

Provision must be made both for the financing and administration of relief. Senate bills in the house would extend for two years the life of the Illinois emergency relief commission, which otherwise would expire at midnight Wednesday. In the same position is a measure to appropriate $70,000,000 for relief financing and $2,000,000 for the IERC's expenses during the next two years.

School organizations have several bills still unpassed. Their chief interest is the demand that the state distributive fund be increased from $13,000,000 to $17,200,000 a year. Recent amendments have approved the increase, but a floor fight is expected.

A house conference committee will try to end the Horner-Hughes drivers' license deadlock. Labor has a group of bills before the house, but its chief interest is the effort to get the senate to approve the requested increase in workmen's compensation awards.

Mayor Kelly of Chicago has a last minute request that local wheel tax and state gas tax funds be diverted so that wage increases can be given to electricians threatening to strike.

The parole board, under continued criticism from some sources, would be put on a long-term basis under a plan to revise the law under which it operates.

Among other big issues pressing for attention are truck regulation by the commerce commission, abolition of "gin marriages," the federal request for soil conservation districts and changes in the tax assessment and collection laws.

Heavy Rain—

a wide area in Stephenson county flooded highways, and ripped out railroad tracks.

The Freeport cloudburst, which was accompanied by hail and a strong wind, covered streets in many residential areas with from 3 to 5 feet of water, and flooded basements in more than 200 homes.

When the water receded, several streets were littered with debris, and their macadam surfaces were so badly damaged that automobile travel was virtually impossible.

Donald H. Stover, government weather statistician at Freeport, said the rainfall totaled 3.02 inches. The storm started at 4 P. M., and the heavy rain continued unabated for 20 minutes. U. S. route 20, west of Freeport, was closed to traffic for a time, and motorists on the same highway east of the city were forced by high water to detour near the Illinois Central railroad viaduct.

The East Freeport lowlands, which suffered heavy damage a few months ago during Peconia river floods, escaped damage, and the Peconia remained within its banks. The river level rose from 7.61 feet at 2 P. M. to 10.24 feet at 10 P. M. at the Illinois Northern Utilities company plant at Freeport, however.

High Water In Streets

Many Freeport streets were flooded when the city's sewer system proved unable to handle the large volume of water. In some residences water reached the first floor. Many automobiles were stalled in water which reached as high as the radiator caps of the cars, and boats were used to rescue persons who were marooned in houses in the vicinity of Locust and Homer streets.

From 3 to 5 feet of water covered West Elk, West Avon, West Homer, West Chestnut and West American streets between the 300 and 600 blocks. Blackhawk, Beaver, Locust, Pine and West streets were also flooded in some sections.

Children who took advantage of the flood to enjoy a swim in the city's streets were warned to remain away from the intersection of Locust and Homer streets, where a manhole cover was lifted off the roadway during the storm. An unidentified girl, about 12 years old, narrowly escaped drowning while swimming on West Chestnut street, between Locust and Pine streets, and was rescued by a man residing in the neighborhood.

Has To Swim Back

Donald Bradford, attendant at a filling station at Chicago avenue and Spring street in Freeport, drove his automobile to his home when the storm started, and closed the windows in his residence. On his return trip, his car became stalled in high water on Spring street, and he swam the remaining block to the oil station.

Other areas in Freeport where basements of homes were flooded included South Cherry avenue, from the 300 to 500 blocks and 600 to 900 blocks; the intersection of Broadway, Pleasant street and Cherry avenue; the vicinity of Benton and Washington streets, where the Harrington and McKinstre coal yards were under 2 feet of water; West Cottonwood street, from Lemon avenue to West avenue; and Spring street from Cherry avenue to Liberty avenue.

A. P. Report

Broken power and communication lines, damaged buildings and crops, and inundated lowlands provided evidence today of a tornado and heavy rains which followed the middle west heat wave.

Although cooling winds swept a wide expanse of territory from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, damage was confined to a relatively small area in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana.

Three persons succumbed in Illinois last night to the effects of the heat, boosting to 24 the number of deaths attributed to high temperatures.

A twister ripped over an area about 12 miles long and one and one-half miles wide in the vicinity of Martinton, Papineau and Beaverville, Ill., yesterday. Buildings, trees and crops were flattened and power and telephone lines laid low.

Similar damage was done by a severe windstorm and heavy rains in southern Wisconsin and northwestern Indiana. Monroe bore the brunt of the storm in Wisconsin. The towns of Oxford and Boswell in Benton county, Ind., were plunged into darkness when the storm disrupted power lines.

Temperatures Skidded

Temperatures skidded 25 degrees at Bloomington, Ill., routing 100-degree weather. A half inch of rain in 30 minutes inundated highways, stalling traffic on route 66 between Dwight and Pontiac for several hours.

Broken electric light wires plunged Peoria into darkness for an hour. A capricious wind whipped dirt from an excavation for a new federal building to create a freak dust storm. The wind and accompanying rain pushed the temperature down 20 degrees to 78 within two hours.

Winds reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour at Rockford, Oregon, Polo and nearby towns, causing minor damage. In four hours the temperature dropped from 94 to 68 degrees at Rockford.

Trees were felled at Springfield. High waves damaged sail and motor boats on Lake Springfield. An hour's rain and wind storm caused disruption of electric light service at Eureka.

Arthur Whipp collapsed from the heat on a farm near Ursa and died before a doctor's arrival. Michael Meacher, 72, one of six persons prostrated at Rockford, succumbed. The third death last night attributed to the heat was that of John Key, 50, Virden, who was overcome while working atop a coal mine.

Students and teachers of the Lorene Beauty School were the guests. Twelve were present. All enjoyed the evening playing games.

Graf And Warner Nuptials Held At Christian Church

Miss Geraldine Dorothy Graf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graf became the June bride of Leonard D. Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Warner in a beautiful ceremony at the First Christian church of Dixon, at 7 P. M. Wednesday.

Rev. J. A. Barnett officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Palms, ferns, peonies, roses and candelabra with white tapers marked the improvised altar. The bride wore a wedding gown of ivory satin which was fashioned on princess lines, with a deep yoke of ivory lace, long tight-fitting sleeves. Her veil of tulle was caught to her hair with orange blossoms and trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses and sweet peas.

Beginning at 6:30 o'clock a program of nuptial music was played by Clinton Fahney, organist. Before the ceremony, Leona Ortt sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "I Love You Truly". Mr. Fahney played as a processional the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin".

Miss Marion Graf, who attended her sister as maid of honor wore a floor length, light green chiffon organza with a corsage of pink sweet peas. Misses Evelyn and Gladys Graf as bridesmaids wore frocks of pink chiffon and corsages of orchid sweet peas. The three attendants wore wreaths of tiny white flowers in their hair.

Mumma Is Best Man

Earl C. Mumma served his cousin as best man. The ushers were Harold Graf, brother of the bride, Melvin Nestead of Rochelle, Merle Drew of Grand Detour, and Clarence Wernick of Oregon. Little Gerald Brooks, nephew of the bridegroom, acted as ring bearer.

Little Loretta Warner, niece of the bridegroom and Sally Clifford of Oregon were flower girls. Little Charlotte Ann Bothe acted as train bearer. Mrs. Fred Graf wore a navy blue silk voile frock over figured satin with white accessories. Mrs. Dewitt Warner wore a blue silk voile frock over figured satin. She also had white accessories.

A reception at the Graf home after the ceremony for a hundred friends and relatives followed. The home was decorated with white and pink roses.

On the bride's table were white and pink tapers in silver candelabra and a three-tiered wedding cake. Geraldine Shaver, Mrs. Clifford Rachel Bull, Cecilia Cason, Harriet Peckham served the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Warner left on a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks. Mrs. Warner wore a navy blue net frock over dotted satin with white coat and white accessories.

Reside With Parents

After returning Mr. and Mrs. Warner will reside at present with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Warner were graduated from the Dixon high school and the Dixon Business college. Mrs. Warner has been employed as a stenographer at the farm bureau insurance department of Oregon. Mr. Warner is a valuable employee in the office of his father who is the county treasurer of Ogle county. The out of town guests were Mrs. John Fossick and daughter Joyce of Marion, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. John Corona of Chicago; Mrs. William Kruse of Walnut; Mrs. Charles Rosengren of Sterling; Miss Harriet Peckham of Rockford; Misses Dorothy and Gladys Warner of Rockford; Mrs. Ernest Nestead and son Melvin of Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Eberly of Nelson. Friends wish the happy couple much happiness and success.

GRAND DETOUR PROGRAM ENDED BY HARD SHOWER

Great Day for Village and Hundreds of Her Visitors Friday

At the banquet at the Colonial Inn in Grand Detour Friday noon, Hon. John P. Devine, former speaker of the Illinois General Assembly, acted as toastmaster. It was on the farm of his father, James Devine, that the first steel pipe was found to be successful in turning the soil of this section. Vice President W. P. Clark of the Case company presented the toastmaster.

Following the dinner which honored descendants of pioneer Grand Detour families, the following guests were presented: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Andrus III and son, Leonard Andrus IV, of Portland, Ore., and Lucius Andrus of Indianapolis, a cousin of Leonard Andrus III; Amos Bosworth of Dixon, whose father was associated with Andrus in the original plow venture; Frank E. Stevens of Springfield, former Dixon resident; John McBride, Dixon, veteran employee of the Case Company; Mrs. Helen M. Woods, Milwaukee, granddaughter of William and Sarah House, cousins of Leonard Andrus I, who were pioneer settlers of Grand Detour; Edward Fairbanks, of the University of Michigan, designer of the Andrus memorial; Dean Christensen, Clifford Gregory, editor of the Prairie Farmer; Mayor William V. Slothower of Dixon; George B. Shaw, editor of The Dixon Telegraph; Alfred Leland, Rockford manager of the Rockford plant of the Case Company; Leon Clausen, president of the Case Company, of Racine, Wis.; and Attorney J. E. Seyster of Oregon.

Four Prostrations

There were four cases of heat prostration treated at the Red Cross emergency station during the celebration. One member of the cast presenting the pageant, was the first to be incapacitated by the intense heat just as that part of the program closed. None of those receiving treatment was in a serious condition, attendants reported.

The program came to a sudden close and the large crowd dispersed hurriedly when heavy clouds gathered and kept the promise of cooler weather with numerous thunder storms and heavy rain about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The hundreds of cars left the quiet old village of Grand Detour without mishap or accident.

One visitor reported having had his pocket picked and losing a small amount of money as the program neared completion. The plowing exhibition was cut short when heavy showers broke and relieved the heat wave which has continued through two days.

STOLE THE PHONE

NEXT WEEK'S WEATHER

2 TYPES OF HUMAN REACTION FOUND ON HIGH AND LOW BAROMETER

HIGH AND DRY—LOW AND WET

Weather waves are big whirls in the air, like pinwheels. Places where the barometer is high turn to the right, while places where the barometer is low turn to the left. Meteorologists like to use a lot of big words to describe simple little every day facts, so let us talk of weather today in terms that everybody knows, as for instance, the differences between the winds associated with high and low barometers.

Police have learned to expect certain types of events to happen in certain types of weather. When the sky is blue and hot, and a swishing south west wind is blowing in an area of high barometer, they expect human anger and violence to be common. Some of our worst riots have occurred when the southwest wind was blowing. This brings us to an interesting feature of weather: A hot dry wind irritates people.

When the humidity is low and the weather warm and a wind keeps up, the air dries out the membranes of people's noses and throats. It makes their skins dry and stinging. It gets dust in their hair and eyes and teeth it makes them uncomfortable, and without knowing why, they grow peevish and cross. But when a cool northeast wind blows, people are just the reverse—they are pleasant, agreeable, easy to get along with, they like to remain quiet. When the barometer reads from the northeast, we find exactly the opposite effects on people from the harsh dry weather associated with high barometer.

A low barometer brings cloudy skies, perhaps a cool steady rain, dust no longer fills the air, skins are no longer parched and wind-whipped, so people feel better, more settled, and far less inclined to quarrel.

The effects of high and low barometer apply not only to human beings, they apply to animals, and even to inanimate objects. A hot dry day of high barometer is the best time for bathing your dog. You want to have him dry as quickly as you can, so he will have less chance to catch cold, or get dtemper. When you want to bathe your pet, drying winds are an advantage, so pick your day from the southwest and the barometer strong.

Then let us take the washing of clothes. Here is a part of every day life where the barometer means a great deal. Hot dry high pressure days make better wash days, because then the clothes dry in nearly no time at all in the moisture-lacking air. Cool damp low barometer days make the worst possible weather for drying clothes, for then the garments hang on the line like soggy rags for hours on end. We might therefore cite one exception to the rule that damp days are quiet and restful, for nothing makes a housewife more peevish and cross than to see her clean clothes hanging heavy on the line, gathering fresh dirt and soot, and not getting dry. Plan your washings with an eye on a possible high barometer, and you will not have to wait long to take in the dry clothes.

Next week we will tell you more of how barometric waves, or air whirls move and affect our daily lives.

SKY SCANNERS, ATTENTION

Jupiter, a great deity to the Romans and a great planet to us, is now rising after sunset, a brilliant blue white orb in the southeast. With his four moons, Jupiter is a most interesting spectacle of the skies to be enjoyed by telescope. Have you a telescope yet? Upon request, Professor Selby Maxwell will send you a Jupiter chart, together with instructions for making a good inexpensive telescope. Just ask for "Jupiter Chart," enclosing a 3c stamped self-addressed envelope for your reply. Address: Prof. Selby Maxwell, care of this newspaper, and the Jupiter chart will be sent to you free.

'WAY BACK WHEN

Remember away back when every man engaged in violation of law lived in fear of the G-men?

State laws might be violated with impunity, but the smart criminal stopped short of federal laws, which governed the mails and national banks.

The G-men have been put in their places by John L. Lewis' Associates.

SPRING A SURPRISE

The treasury department certainly sprung a surprise when they brought in the name of Andrew Mellon among those charged with being smart in figuring income tax exemptions.

Of course, we all expected to see the names of Raskob and the DuPonts and other Liberty leaguers, but who ever would have thought that anybody in this administration, or any democrat anywhere, would have thought to attempt to pin anything on Andrew Mellon?

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Senator Walter F. George, democrat, Georgia: "This is a step toward complete dictatorship under the force of martial law. If the militia should have been used at all, it should have been used to open the mills and protect the citizens in their constitutional right to work."

Senator Josiah W. Bailey, democrat, North Carolina: "The only compensation in this situation is that Governor Earle has indicated clearly to the American people what sort of president he would be in event he should be nominated and elected. . . . In taking this action, the governor of Pennsylvania took sides in a strike, not with the workers who were at work, but with an organization which was trying to keep them from working. The proper course would have been to call out the militia for the purpose of protecting men in their right to work, not for the purpose of aiding those who were engaged in preventing men from working."

Senator Rush D. Holt, democrat, West Virginia: "The record proves that Lewis has had the silent and hearty cooperation of the administration in these industrial disputes. It also proves that whenever Lewis starts losing ground, the administration steps in to save his face."

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, democrat, Illinois: "There comes a point with all governments, where, if government is to survive, it must assert itself as government or it must melt, wither and die in the contempt of civilization. It is not sufficient to assume that a dispute may be called liberal or take any other form, and, because of that, excuse the invading of those realms which threaten peace and order, perchance the whole domestic security of the republic."

"If it be true that there is an element in politics which, for the want of any other name goes by the name of communism, that has for its design the seizing of the army of America and the possession of its property, and, by different forms of sabotage, to destroy the possessions and the independence of this country, when was there a time so fitting for such an undertaking to make its advent and dare lift its head and intrude itself in its audacious design as under the present circumstances surrounding our republic."

"This nation is in great peril. I behold America as it now stands upon an eve of turbulence which can result in a conflict very similar to that which preceded the Civil war. . . . We can not overlook the fact that it was such conditions as those which confront us now that brought on the early state in Russia, by which the army of that land was seized by the discontented. . . . Shall we overlook at this time and forget that it was that manner in which Italy yielded and that conditions in Italy by which a situation finally has resulted in a tyranny and a form of despotism which we shrink to mention? Mr. President, conditions can not remain as they are now. They bid too much danger, they threaten results much too severe."

Representative Clare E. Hoffman, republican, Michigan: "A peaceful settlement of all these labor troubles can be brought about immediately by a declaration from the president that men will be protected in their desire to toil. All that is needed is a declaration from him that protection by the armed forces of the United States will be given to our people in their daily activities."

FUSE NOT YET LIGHTED

Although ominous events have taken place recently in Europe in connection with the Spanish civil war and the probability that it will grow into a widespread struggle, still it seems that the proper fuse has not been lighted.

Having toyed with the military arm of his government, the German dictator Hitler is now engaged in a desperate diplomatic game in which, during the last day or two, he has lost ground. The Russians, target of Hitler's efforts, have at least held their own.

In discussing the Spanish situation, we must not forget that the Iberian war is a mere incident in a struggle that has been waged hotly ever since Hitler gained control. The real struggle is between those powerful countries—Japan, Germany and Italy—which have no colonies, and France, Great Britain and Russia, which either have colonies, or need none, as in the case of Russia. It is a fight between those who have and those who have not. True, Italy and Japan have acquired some territory, Japan in China and Italy in Africa, but full diplomatic recognition is lacking.

It has become apparent to a few competent observers that the land-hungry nations will not go into joint military action against the land-hungry nations unless the three latter take joint action in some project or two of them openly support a third. Thus, if Japan, Germany and Italy should attack Russia jointly, France and Britain would feel obliged to support the Reds.

This theory may be wrong now. It may have been wrong when formulated, but it has served somewhat as a basis for conjecture, and in its application to date it has proved correct. In regard to the Spanish situation, Japan can have only a remote interest in it, so Germany and Italy have acted jointly without blowing up the powder magazine.

If that theory is correct, then the Spanish crisis will not generate a world conflict. Barring some hysterical act, the time is not ripe for a world war, although one is being planned.

On April 29, May 8, and May 19, On June 8 he went to Hyde Park for a week's visit, sailed to the Jefferson Island Club in the Chesapeake on July 15, and took week-end cruises on July 20, July 28, August 26.

Congress did not adjourn until the last of August in 1935, and on September 1 Roosevelt went to Hyde Park for 23 days, before starting on a tour of the west September 26. On this trip he dedicated Boulder dam, sailing from San Diego on October 3 for a deep sea fishing trip which took him through the Panama Canal and back via the Bahamas.

He arrived in Charleston October 23, and went to Warm Springs on October 30, after spending only six days in Washington. On November 9 he left Warm Springs on a speaking tour which took him through Chattanooga, South Bend and Toledo, returning to Washington November 11.

PAZIANO

1936 Itinerary

On February 23 Roosevelt broke the congressional grind with a two-day trip to Hyde Park. His trip schedule from that point on:

March 23 to April 9—Fishing trip in Bahamas.

April 10—One-day stop at Warm Springs.

April 27—Hyde Park.

May 3—4—Week-end cruise down Potomac.

May 11—Cruise down Potomac.

May 16—18—Cruise down Potomac with Twigwell and Hopkins.

May 23—Hyde Park.

June 9 to 15—Speaking trip through southwest preliminary to Philadelphia convention.

Then followed the election campaign of 1936, which was anything but a vacation. During the campaign Roosevelt was away from the capital for the better part of two months.

After the election he remained at Hyde Park for a few days, then sailed on November 18 for Buenos Aires to open the Pan-American Peace conference, returning in mid-December. On March 12, 1937 he went to Warm Springs, remaining there until March 28, after which came the recent fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico.

Costs

The cost of presidential trips is difficult to estimate. The cruiser Indianapolis cost $1,009,945 to operate in 1936 and $947,893 in 1935. Its expense, of course would have been almost the same had the president not used her, though fuel consumption was greater. The operating cost of the cruiser Houston was $925,000 in 1936 and $883,000 in 1935.

The most expensive trip the president took was his diplomatic mission to Buenos Aires, on which the cruiser averaged close to 30 knots. This cost exactly 44 times as much as if he had been making 10 knots. The Navy refuses to disclose the amount of oil consumed, but admits the fuel bill was terrific.

Reminder--

Sycamore's Vision of Being Rich in Oil Has Vanished

Sycamore—The last sad reminder of the setting of a great hope disappeared this week as a crew of workmen dismantled the oil well derrick on the Edmond Wyman farm, three miles east of Sycamore.

Its pinnacle visible above a grove of stately pines lying to the north of route 64, it had stood for nearly five years as grim specter of Sycamore's blasted dream of opulence—the oil boom of '32.

The town was swept with excitement and high hopes back in July of 1932 when it awakened one morning to learn that apparatus for drilling an oil well was being moved to the Wyman farm. Paul Schulte, an Oak Park capitalist and oil prospector, it was revealed, had been convinced by geologists that oil lay under the Wyman farm and with several associates he had financed the drilling of a well.

The dome of the Savanna-Sabula anticline, it was said, had been located as under the Wyman farm and it remained only to be tapped to yield a flow of oil that would start an oil rush to that vicinity. The report gained all the more credence because several years before well drillers sinking a water shaft on the James Entwistle farm had reported striking a layer of gas, which was taken as evidence of an oil pocket in that proximity.

Schulte, who was interested in oil development projects in Michigan and Indiana, was interested to the extent that he sunk $35,000 into drilling operations.

Meanwhile, the countryside round about was scoured until in all more than 1,700 acres of land had been leased for oil rights and the farmers were to be paid a royalty on all oils that wells on their land should yield.

The drilling began on July 20. The event was witnessed by a great delegation from Sycamore, headed by Frank Stevens, then mayor. Drilling continued for 30 days until a depth of 300 feet had been reached. Then a cable from which the stem of the drill extended, snapped and the heavy piece of steel became imbedded in the shaft. This was the first of many vicissitudes.

After several weeks the stem was recovered and drilling started again, the drillers eventually reaching a depth of 4,500 feet.

One after another the oil bearing strata were penetrated without success in tapping an oil pocket. Finally the project was abandoned.

Most of the machinery is being moved to Elgin where it will be used for well drilling purposes. The casing that was put in place at intervals as the shaft was sunk has been pulled out and is being shipped away.

Though the venture was a failure, farmers of the vicinity have not lost faith that there is oil under land. It is said that in many developed fields the oil is found at an even greater depth than was reached in the drilling at the Wyman farm.

PREDICT DRIVER LICENSE LAW'S PASSAGE SOON

Monday Seen As Deadline For 4-Month Controversy

Springfield, Ill., June 26—(AP)—Assurance that Illinois will have a drivers' license law was heard in legislative circles today as usually reliable sources predicted the four-months long controversy would end in a compromise early next week, probably Monday night.

The forecasts were made as the conference committee, selected when the house and senate reached an impasse over amendments to the O'Grady bill, adjourned over the weekend after five meetings in two days with both sides still unyielding on the question of a fee.

However, the predicted compromise was expected to follow rather closely the one suggested by the senate side yesterday and which sent the house conferees hurrying to the governor's office for long conference with Mr. Horner and public works and buildings director F. Lynden Smith.

Details of Compromise
A 50-cent fee for three years would be restored in the measure, the secretary of state would issue the licenses and keep records, the administration would be placed in the governor's highway division and each department would be allowed an appropriation of $375,000 for the biennium.

The house originally had placed the whole act under the highway division, with a 50-cent fee and appropriation of $750,000 but the senate altered the measure to place it under the secretary of state, eliminate the fee and cut in appropriation in half.

Patronage possibilities under the proposed law have persisted in entering the conference debate but both sides have vigorously denied that the question of jobs has any connection with their deadlock.

House Adopts

Senate conferees, headed by Harold Ward, Chicago Democrat, have insisted that a fee would only "soak the motorist."

The house group, led by Nicholas L. Hubbard, Mt. Pulaski Democrat and conference chairman, have remained adamant in their stand that a fee is necessary, if only 25 cents for three years, and that "the governor wants it."

Among suggestions offered by house members for settlement of the squabble was one by Reed F. Cutler, Lewistown Republican, that the measure be placed under the department of registration and education, and another by I. H. Streeter, Alton Republican, that the measure be made applicable only to Chicago.

In the background, rumors persist that the drivers' license bill was involved in a "trade" between the administration and Chicago forces over other measures.

TWIN WROTE HIS CONCEPT OF FREEDOM

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—Scratch a humorist, some people say, and you'll find a frustrated genius.

But that, said Franklin J. Meine, president of the society of midland authors, Friday, isn't true of Mark Twain. Meine recently was awarded the newly-established Mark Twain fellowship at Northwestern University.

"So far as I have been able to learn from research," he said, "Mark Twain's frustration was only that which all of us, at times, have felt. Such as he had might have helped to give some of his writing a little more polish, but there is nothing in the records to show that he was bitterly at odds with his environment, that he considered he was a 'ham' looking to be a 'hamlet'."

"If the feeling of frustration had been so strong upon his surely those who knew him—such persons, for example, as Joe Goodman, editor of the Virginia City, Nev. Enterprise, Bret Harte, Artemus Ward and others—would have known of it and have left their impressions of it in writing."

Meine said Twain was a "very shrewd merchandiser" who knew what his public wanted and gave it without fear that he was impairing his artistic integrity.

He believes the humorist's work is taking on new significance.

"I was told recently that Mark Twain represents the Russian's concept of American freedom, obtained chiefly from such books as 'Life on the Mississippi,' 'Tom Sawyer' and 'Huckleberry Finn.'"

HUSBAND-HUNTERS

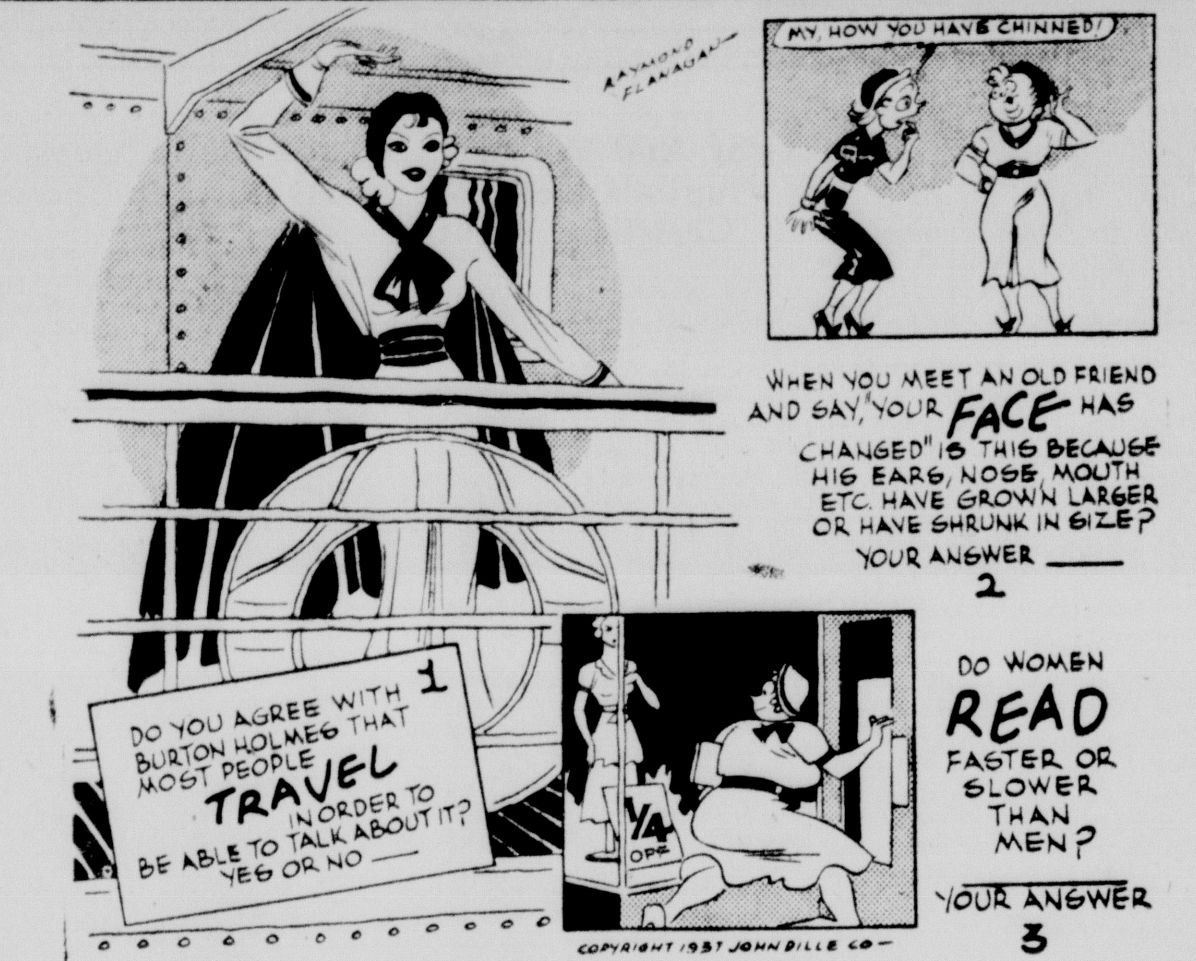

Austin, Tex. —(AP)—A young woman's culture won't win her a husband from the group of young men in Dr. C. W. Hall's "marriage" class at the University of Texas.

The males ranked character as the most desirable wife trait, and other qualities in this order: desire for home and children, health, intelligence, fidelity, congeniality, personality, consideration and understanding, culture.

Women students ranked qualities of prospective husbands in this order: honesty and sincerity, ambition, congeniality, attractive personal appearance, desire for home and children, sense of humor, intelligence, fidelity, personality, understanding.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Albert Edward Wiggam, S.S.C. Author of pastime with "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No. Of course many wealthy people travel who have little else to do may travel to see something or some place because their friends all talk about it. We all feel a bit small when with people who talk about Budapest or Tokyo or theistine Chapel, etc., if we have not been to these places. But psychologists have found that if you ask a thousand people what they would like most to do they will, without exception, reply instantly, "travel." It is a deeper passion than the mere desire to talk about it—a passion to see new scenes, forget your troubles, experience new climates and in short—live.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. All the features of the head and face grow bigger to the end of life—at least, on into the sixties and seventies, as shown by Dr. Ales

Inventory Your Personality

Knowledge of your Emotional and Personality traits is of great value to you. Dr. Wiggam has persuaded one of America's greatest Universities to permit the offer of the Personality Schedule used by it in determining personality strengths and weaknesses of college students. This Personality Schedule was prepared by one of America's leading psychologists. It contains 220 scientifically tested questions designed to measure your Personality. A method of self-grading is provided. Knowing your strengths and weaknesses equips you for self-improvement. This Personality Schedule is yours upon request accompanied by stamped (3c) self-addressed return envelope, together with 10c in coin to cover actual costs. Just ask for Personality Schedule. Address: Dr. Albert E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

Hrdlicka of Washington, D. C. He has measured thousands of skulls and head features of many races over the world and finds that our ears grow bigger, our mouths wider and our noses longer and bigger until death do us part. So, your friends as well as yourself, really do change in facial appearance.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. In an extended experiment, Dr. Alvvh Lauer, found that women as a rule read faster than men and that they improve more by scientific practice. By twenty minutes practice each day for only twenty days he was able to increase the speed with which his students read by more than one-third. By careful self-study many people can greatly improve themselves in reading speed and by scientific coaching many people can almost double their speed—and at the same time understand what they are reading just as well, or better. Dr. Lauer thinks all college students need to be taught to improve their reading ability.

GOLDEN RULES OF SAFETY FOR FOURTH GIVEN

Measures Designed To Halt Toll Of Fireworks

Six "Golden Rules of Safety" for boys and girls who simply must play with firecrackers and torpedoes on the Fourth of July were announced today by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

"We believe that all communities should take immediately measures to halt the frightful toll of injuries resulting each year by prohibiting the sale and regulating the use of fireworks," said Miss Aurey M. Hayden, executive secretary of the society.

"But there are many communities which lack fireworks ordinances, and to the boys and girls of such towns we suggest the following 'golden rules of safety.'"

First of the rules is one concerned primarily with the saving of eyesight.

"Never place firecrackers in cans, bottles or metal pipes," the society asks. "Hundreds of eye injuries occur yearly due to flying shrapnel of glass and metal."

Also concerned with eyesight is this rule:

"Never bend down to examine a 'dud' firecracker—one that has failed to go off. It may explode in your face."

Other warnings of the society include:

"Never throw a firecracker or torpedo at any person or animal."

"Do not shoot off small firecrackers in your hands, for death by lockjaw can result from powder burns."

"Do not toss firecrackers in the paths of automobiles. Your prank may be the cause of a serious crash."

Lastly, the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness ask that fireworks be used in an open field or area, sufficiently far from houses and buildings so that the fire danger may be minimized.

"We are crusading for laws in all cities and counties against the sale of fireworks," commented Miss Hayden, "but if fireworks must be used in unprotected communities, we hope that adherence to these golden rules may save the sight or lives of many children."

Deacon Johnson surprised the church congregation at an entertainment by making the following announcement:

"The next piece on the program will be a song by Miss Tabitha Thompson entitled, 'Put Me in My Little Bed,' accompanied by the minister."

Lady (at party)—"Where's that pretty maid who was passing out cocktails a while ago?"

Hostess—"Oh, are you looking for a drink?"

Lady—"No, I'm looking for my husband!"

SAYS DUST BOWL ONCE DESERT OF FIERCE STORMS

Stripping Vegetation Will Again Cause Disaster

Denver, June 25—(AP)—Geological records of the past 50,000 years tell what must be done if the mid-west dustbowl does not want to return to the desert it once was.

These records were given to the American association for the advancement of science today by Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois state geological survey.

This "bowl" was a geological maelstrom up to about 20,000 years ago. Since then it has settled down to a pastoral sort of peace, never really threatened with interruption until man started to settle it.

Before the peaceful period there were dust storms so terrific they deposited in Nebraska 42,000 square miles of the present soil, to a depth of scores of feet.

Dr. Leighton said recent dust storms have produced "blow out depressions" a number of feet deep and many acres in extent in South Dakota, western Kansas and eastern Colorado.

But these are only little warnings of what happened in ancient times. Ancient "blowout depressions" 40 feet deep and two miles or more in extent have been found in the high tablelands of western Nebraska and adjoining states.

Even more startling is the warning of geology that these western plain soils in some places can blow away without drought.

To do it again, Dr. Leighton said, they only have to be stripped of vegetation by unintelligent agriculture.

Colored Woman (to ticket agent)

—"I want a ticket for Magnolia please."

Ticket Agent (after studying a railroad map for ten minutes)—"Auntie, where is Magnolia?"

Here's Magnolia—this chile settin' on de suitcase."

"You were swindled over this Rembrandt. The picture is not fifty years old."

"I don't care about age so long as it is a genuine Rembrandt."

Franklin Grove Happenings

MISS GRACE PEARL, CORRESPONDENT

Franklin Grove—Mrs. Harry Kint, Mrs. William Herbst, Mrs. Wilbur Brecunier, Mrs. Will Crawford and Mrs. Frank Banker were entertained Wednesday afternoon in Dixon by Mrs. Arthur Morris. Luncheon was enjoyed at the Rice sisters in Dixon after which cards were played at the Morris home.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson, Robert Wilson, John Mong and Mrs. Lucy Schmucker motored to East Moline Monday where they visited with Mrs. Laura Mong. They report her as about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stultz and son Scott and J. H. Lincoln attended the funeral of Mrs. Frederick A. Dow at Hinsdale Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Louis Grafton attended a meeting of the Presbytery held at Geneseo Monday. Mrs. Grafton visited at the home of a friend, Miss Flora Repps of Moline.

Friends here received announcement of the graduation of Charles Norman Langdon at Marshalltown, Iowa on June 3rd. Charles is the son of Earl Forbes Langdon and is the grandson of Mrs. Zulen Forbes Langdon, a former resident of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher and son of Wheaton were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller. On Sunday, in company with the Millers they enjoyed a picnic dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith in Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knouse of Dixon were Wednesday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brucker.

Mrs. Mae Clever and daughter Rose in company with her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Myers spent Wednesday in Rockford.

Rev. and Mrs. Louis Grafton attended the annual reunion of the Willow Creek Presbyterian church in Argyle Friday. Rev. Allen B. Darling, pastor of the Willow Creek church, is a former classmate of Rev. Grafton.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Meeny and daughter of Cedar Rapids, Iowa are visiting at the Jay Miller home.

Former Resident Dies
Mrs. Harry Stultz received word Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Frederick A. Dow at her home in Hinsdale. Funeral services were on Thursday afternoon in the Union church at Hinsdale with burial in Bronswood cemetery. Mrs. Dow who was 71 years of age, died late Monday in her home after a long illness. From 1912 to 1914 Mrs. Dow was president of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. During the war she helped organize the state council of defense and aided Red Cross activities. Mrs. Dow will be remembered as Miss Annie Maybanks, a former teacher in the local school. Mrs. Dow was a speaker of note and has given many addresses at this place and has always been well received. Her husband is a former resident of this place living with his mother, where Miss Flora Wicker now lives. He is a cousin of Mrs. Harry Stultz of this place.

William Hilley Dies
After a long illness and much suffering William Hilley passed away at his home here Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home. A full obituary will appear in this column on Wednesday evening.

Auto Trip
Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Miller left early Thursday morning for Ames, Iowa, where they will transact business.

Seriously Ill
Mrs. Addie Bladbridge is reported seriously ill at her home in the east part of town. Her friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Visited in Rochelle
Mr. and Mrs. Roland Tompkins were in Rochelle Sunday at the Dan Craig home.

Weddings of Interest
The past week has been a lucky week for June brides. Several of the weddings will be of much interest to the readers of these items.

Harold B. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barnes of Dixon and Miss Ida M. Warrentzel, daughter of Mr. LeRoy O. Warrentzel of this place were united in marriage on Sunday at two o'clock at the Evangelical parsonage. The Rev. Parke O. Bailey officiated. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The bride was attired in a pink silk dress with white accessories. The groom was attired in a suit of blue serge. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were attended by Wanda B. Rossiter and Clarence Kecker. Miss Rossiter was attired in a gown of pink with accessories in white.

Arnold-Colwell
Miss Blanche Colwell, daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Colwell of this place and Elliott Arnold, son of the late Julius Arnold of Viola township were united in marriage on Wednesday morning at the Presbyterian parsonage in Ashton. The impressive single ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. F. Louis Grafton. The bride wore a dress of silk print. The couple was attended by Mrs. Brandt, a sister of the groom and Claire Colwell, a brother of the bride.

Mrs. Arnold is a graduate of the Franklin Grove high school and the Illinois State Teachers' College at DeKalb. For the past ten years she has taught the Hillside and tea's Corners schools, and for the past four years she has taught in the primary room of the Franklin Grove school. She has served as leader of the Girl Scouts and has been a very active member in the Presbyterian church, having taught a class in Sunday school for years. Her friends are legion. Mr. Arnold has been employed as a farmer in Viola township for a number of years and has been an active worker in the Masonic order. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold departed for a short trip to the Wisconsin Dells and Montello. They will be at home on the groom's farm in Viola township where the best wishes of many friends will go with them.

Mong-Ling

Miss Helen Ling of this place, daughter of the late Henry Ling, and Wilbur S. Mong, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mong of this place were united in marriage Monday at 9 A. M. at the Emmanuel Episcopal church in Rockford.

William Ling of Rochelle gave his niece in marriage. Mrs. Perry Meyers of Oregon attended her sister as matron of honor, and Gordon Overstreet of Dixon served as best man for Mr. Mong.

Howard Wolf was organist for the service, for which the church altar was banked with white peonies and lighted by white tapers. The bride wore an ankle-length white chiffon gown, which had puffed sleeves and a pastel girle. Her white silk halo had white streamers, and she carried white roses and delphiniums. Mrs. Myers wore blue lace frock and her flowers were gardenias.

Present for the ceremony was an uncle and aunt of the bride, John and Blanche Canfield of Chana; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Myers and three sons; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Overstreet of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. William Ling of Rochelle; Mrs. George Windham Ridgeway and daughter Anne.

After a wedding breakfast was served at the Faust hotel, they left for a trip to the northwest into Canada by motor. They will return in the late summer to reside at Belvidere.

Mrs. Mong is a graduate of the Franklin Grove high school and also from the Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb. She has been in charge of the Freeman school since the work there began. Formerly she taught in Paw Paw, Rock Falls and Ashton. Mr. Mong was graduated from the University of Illinois and taught in Lee Center and Amboy before going to Belvidere to teach science in the high school there. "Wilbur and Helen" as they are known to a large circle of friends have the best wishes from all for many years of happy married life.

Announcement was made Tuesday of the marriage of Miss Helen Jeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jeter of Ashton, former residents of this place, to Paul Vaupel, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vaupel of Ashton which took place a year ago, June 22, 1936. The bride is the granddaughter of F. D. Kelly of this place. The groom taught the seventh and eighth grades in the local school a year ago. The marriage is of more than passing interest to the local people.

At the ceremony performed by a justice of the peace, Mrs. Vaupel wore a white sport ensemble. They were unattended. Mrs. Vaupel is a graduate of the Ashton school with the class of 1936 and for short time has been employed at Hamel's general store. Mr. Vaupel graduated from the Ashton school and the University of Illinois. The past year he taught history, social science and economics at Leaf River high school and the year before he taught the seventh and eighth grades in the local school.

Mr. Vaupel will attend the University of Wisconsin summer school to work toward his master's degree and will be accompanied by his wife. They will live in a trailer. In the fall they will reside in Leaf River where he will again teach school.

We make mention of the following marriage as the groom is the grandson of Mrs. Mary Miller of this place and has a very large circle of relatives in this community. Glenn is well known here.

Krug-Barden

Glenn C. Krug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Krug of Ashton was united in marriage to Miss Lila Barden of Cambria, Wisconsin Saturday in Chicago. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert C. Klenle, pastor of the St. Luke's Evangelical church, at the parsonage.

For the past three years he has been employed in the chemical laboratories of the Wilson Packing Company in Chicago. They will reside in Chicago.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Carl W. Adams and Miss Mildred Helmershausen, a former resident of this place. The bride was born here. She graduated from the Rupert, Idaho high school and from the University of Idaho. She has been employed in a bank at Rupert.

Miss June Conlon Honored
Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes entertained with a towel shower Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss June Conlon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Conlon of this place. The afternoon was spent in the beautiful yard, with games and visiting. Miss Conlon received some very lovely gifts. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. A most delightful afternoon is reported by all.

Medric Hussey, chairman of the music committee of the village wishes us to state that the committee have done the very best they could in placing the band stand. That if it is not left in one place permanently it is an added expense to the town to move the stand each week, and the town board thought it best to place it there permanently. They have tried to place it in other places but failed in the attempt. The music committee feel that they have done all in their power to please the public and objected to our item concerning it.

MT. MORRIS

By Pauline Yoe

Mt. Morris—The Hill street home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Klepfer was the scene Saturday morning at 10 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Lillian Thrun, daughter of W. C. Thrun of Batavia, and Russell Colburn, son of Mrs. Mabel Colburn.

The young couple repeated their vows amid a multitude of peonies and roses with which the home was decorated. The service was read by Dr. C. H. Hightower, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church. Walking slowly toward the altar on the arm of Mr. Klepfer, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white satin, trimmed in lace and silver slippers, and carried a large bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the maid of honor, Miss Elsie Klepfer, a life-long friend, whose pale blue gown was trimmed in pink. She carried a colonial bouquet. Acting as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Roy Colburn of Leaf River.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed the ceremony. Guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. George Thrun, grandparents of the bride, her uncle, Herman Thrun, and her brother, William Thrun, from Batavia. Mrs. Camellotte and Mrs. Birmelster of Chicago, Robert Klepfer of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colburn of Leaf River.

When the bride and groom left for a trip to Chicago Mrs. Colburn was wearing a frock of navy gorgette figured in white and white accessories.

Mrs. Colburn was graduated from the Batavia high school in the class of 1931 and her husband is a graduate of Mt. Morris high school with the class of 1932. Both are employed with the Kable News company.

For the summer months the young couple will make their home in the Kable Apartment building.

Mrs. John Buck used peonie buds in a low bowl to center her table when she and Mr. Buck entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ira Buck of Franklin Grove and the Dale Lizer family for dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Irene Viotto of Los Angeles, a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Booth, was complimented at a number of parties last week-end. On Friday evening the Booths entertained Mr. and Mrs. Marian Small, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Finch and Mr. and Mrs. William Prugh and their daughter, Mrs. Leeland Cratty of Mt. Pleasant, Ia., at dinner. The evening hours were spent around the bridge tables. On Saturday evening the Booths, Finchs and the Prughs picnicked at the Pines.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Finch entertained for Mrs. Viotto at a supper bridge. Guests were Mrs. Pearl Kable, Dr. Ted Thomas, Warren Burchby and the Booths. Mrs. Viotto left Wednesday for a visit with friends and relatives in the Fox River valley, but will return to Mt. Morris in the near future.

Mrs. H. E. Coffman invited a few friends in for bridge Wednesday evening. Guests were the Mesdames Claude Woolsey (Stella Snowberger) of Little Rock, Ark., Leeland Cratty of Mt. Pleasant, Ia., Howard Bronson, Emmert Wolfe, Karl Zastrow, Worthington Thoms, Dwight Sharer and Harold Ross.

Mrs. Harold Pearce was hostess to the members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon. Those to enjoy her hospitality were the Mesdames Harvey Wright, Axel Johnston, Jess Smith, Paul Barnhizer, Cameron Findlay, Darrel Toms and Marshall Woodworth.

The living room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Acaley was filled with a profusion of garden flowers Saturday morning. In the double window there were large baskets bearing colorful bouquets. Before them at 11 o'clock, stood Miss Lucille Acaley and William Heiter as they repeated the wedding vows read to them by Dr. C. H. Hightower, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of blue flowered chiffon with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lovell of Leaf River attended the couple. Mrs. Lovell wore navy blue chiffon with a corsage bouquet of roses and daisies.

Mrs. Acaley watched the ceremony in a frock of white printed navy crepe de chene. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sara Paul of Leaf River who attended the ceremony, wore a frock of blue crepe de chene.

A buffet supper was served to the 20 wedding guests after the ceremony. Leaf River guests at the ceremony were the Guy Mayer family, Mrs. Susan Schrieber, Mrs. Roy Stukenburg and son, Ellis Roy, Walter Koontz and her son Aubrey, and Mrs. Leslie Kretsinger and daughter, Geraldine.

The bride has been employed at the Kable Brothers company and Mr. Heiter is a barber in Leaf River where the newly married couple will reside.

Friends of Miss Lorena Buck, daughter of Earl R. Buck of Franklin Grove, will be interested to note that she will be married next Wednesday to Leroy Arthur Gemmell of California. Miss Buck, who attended Mt. Morris college, is well known here.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the Eastern Star Monday evening at which time there will be initiation ceremonies. A potluck supper at 6:30 o'clock will be held in the reception rooms. The officers will meet in the hall Friday evening for practice.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Boston were associate patron and conductress, respectively, in the Forest City chapter in Rockford. They were accompanied by Mrs. Nora Buser and Mrs. Olive Rohleder.

Mrs. Joe Lundholm and Mrs. Maurice Quinlan were initiated into the American Legion auxiliary at a special meeting held in their rooms Tuesday evening. Following the ceremonies a short program was offered by several members of the junior group. Margaret Louise Schmucker and Dorothy Bea Avey sang a duet, Patsy Hilger gave two tap dances and Miss Helen Barnhizer sang a group of songs. Mrs. Mildred Stass of Preport, 13th district director, was present at the meeting and gave a short talk. A social hour followed by refreshments brought the pleasant evening to a close.

Mrs. Lena Hoffmeister of Cape Girardeau, Mo., who is visiting in Mt. Morris, was entertained with a small party of friends at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Charles Cox last Thursday afternoon.

The members of the Pine Creek Woman's club have completed plans for their annual Children's play day which will take place at the Pines State park next Wednesday. The program of games is in charge of Mrs. Everett Cox. A picnic supper will be served at 4 o'clock.

Adelaide and John Noble entertained the young people of the Salem church at a party last evening at their Rockdale township home.

Miss Bea Horton, Mrs. C. J. Price and Mrs. Howard Bronson were prize winners last Friday afternoon when the Q. P. K. club members were guests of Mrs. Charles Cox at dessert bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George Hendrickson, Miss Mary Wishard and Eddie Logan were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lizer were dinner hosts Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knodle, Mr.

and Mrs. Paul Yoe and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Sharer. The evening hours were spent chatting.

A marriage license was issued this week in Carroll County to Miss Jane McGee and Jamie McNett.

The Misses Lois Bruner, Irene Priller, Willa Mae Bale, Denelda Parkinson, Marian McNett, Lou Cartha Jones and Jean Abramson and William Webster, Gene Nelson, Curtis Martin and William Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace were Pines picnicers Wednesday evening.

To welcome their new member, the members of the Rebekah lodge will meet early for a potluck supper this evening before their regular session.

A June moon gave luster to the late supper party at the Sprecher cottage on Rock river Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spielman, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Blake and Mr. and Mrs. George Priller were guests who passed the pleasant evening with the Sprechers.

To vary their monthly parties, the members of the Homemakers class will have a steak fry at the Pines Monday evening.

The Mesdames H. J. Stengel, Clarence Mitchell, Millidge Newton, George Hendrickson, Robert Martin, C. L. Smith and Miss Ethyle McNett and Miss Mary Wishard were guests of Mrs. Harlan McNett last Friday evening when she entertained in compliment to Mary whose birthday it was. Bridge and pleasant conversation provided a happy evening. Prizes were awarded to Miss McNett, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Newton and Miss Wishard.

Mrs. Fred Park, chairman, Mrs. Frank Horton and Mrs. Arthur Harper will be the hostesses when the members of the Glad Hand meet in the church parlors Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Nannie Pollock and grandson Larry are visiting Mrs. Pollock's son, Raymond, in Adel, Ia., this week.

Byron News

By MRS. J. M. HEALD

BYRON—Mrs. Dorothy McNamers Baker was seriously injured on Wednesday morning when the car in which she was riding collided with a car at Camp Grant, near Rockford. She was picked up by Lyle McNamers and taken to St. Anthony's Hospital where her injuries are pronounced serious.

Kenneth Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson was married last Saturday to Miss Gladys Corbett of Mt. Morris. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bannen at the Lutheran parsonage in Rockford.

Miss Josephine Wheelock of St. Charles is visiting friends in Byron and attending the centennial.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heald are spending the week end with relatives at Elburn & Hinckley.

Byron workmen of the Case plant resumed work on Thursday morning after several days forced vacation on account of a strike.

Barbers in Byron are reaping a harvest owing to the rise in prices of a haircut in Rockford. Many Rockford who will not pay the 75c take advantage of the 35c cut.

Maurice Gambrell left for Washington Boy Scout Jamboree on Saturday to be gone about two weeks. He is the only boy from Byron to go and we will watch with pride all he does and listen to his review of his trip when he returns.

The Centennial banquet on Friday evening was well attended and the program greatly enjoyed. Many out of town guests were present and informal talks by old timers.

Several Byron women are making daily trips to Rochelle where they are working in the canning factory. The canning of peas is now in progress.

DEATH BY ASPHYXICATION

Chicago—(AP)—Mrs. Nelle Lucas Forsythe, 47, the former Nelle R. Lucas of Lincoln, Ill., and a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan university, was found dead in her apartment by her husband, Robert H. Forsythe, chief bibliographer for the Newberry library. Police said Mrs. Forsythe died of asphyxiation and that her husband reported four burners of a gas stove were open.

"Now Bobby", the teacher said, "tell me where the elephant is found".

The boy hesitated for a moment, then his face lit up.

"The elephant", he said, "is such a large animal it is scarcely ever lost".

REDS COMING UP IN LEAGUE DEFEAT BEES

Cubs Beat Dodgers; Cards Wallop the Giants 9-4

BY SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

One side, folks, here come the Cincinnati Reds.

After spending slightly over eight weeks getting his Rhinelanders out of the National League cellar, just when everyone thought they'd taken a lease on the place, Charley Dressen popped up today with the heartening news that the Reds have only started climbing.

From somewhere, they've come up suddenly with they ways and means of winning ball games, although their nine-inning pitchers are still few and far between, and in their current home stay have climbed from the bottom of the pack to sixth place.

Although the Cincinnati sluggers aren't causing any immediate worry for the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, who belted over the Dodgers and Giants, respectively, yesterday, to remain in the one-two spots, Dressen figures it won't be long now.

The sudden return to form of Paul Derringer, who pitched a three-hitter against the Giants last week, is one of the big factors. Dressen believes has favored the Reds, and the classy comeback of Chick Hafey is another.

Hafey Responsible
Hafey and another comebacker, the newly-acquired pitching veteran Walter Brown, played a large part in the Reds 6-2 win over the Boston Bees yesterday, which gave them a one-game toe-hold on sixth place, and left them only two games away from fifth.

The big fireworks in the National league, however, were furnished in St. Louis and Chicago. The Cardinals, entertaining the Giants, gave Mr. Slick Castelman a 14-hit going over and finished on top, 9-4, to drop the New Yorkers two full games away from second place.

The Cubs retained their one-game lead by walloping the Dodgers, 11-2, on Augie Galan's two homers and Tex Carleton's five-hit flinging.

Opening their "cruel" series with the Tigers, the Yankees handed Tommy Bridges and the Detroit an 8-1 setback, as Bill Dick's revived power-hitting clouted his sixth homer in five days. The win left the Yanks four games in front in the American league and dropped the Tigers into a second-place tie with the Chicago White Sox, who outlasted the Senators and Wes Ferrell for a 7-6 decision.

Boston's Red Sox made it three straight by topping the Browns 4-2 as Buck Newsom pitched a four-hitter. The Phillies pounded the Pirates 10-5. The Indians and Athletics were not scheduled.

TIGER, CHOICE AT WASHINGTON PARK FUTURITY

Finale of Racing For 1937 Gets Under Way This Afternoon

Chicago, June 26.—(AP)—Tiger, another one of Mrs. Ethel V. Marx' big band of crack two-year olds, was the choice today to collect the winner's end of a $38,730 purse in the first running of the futurity, feature of Washington park's farewell to racing for 1937.

Tiger, speedy son of Bulldog, and Mountain Ridge, named as the entry of Mrs. Marx' Milky Way farm stable, figured to go to the post in the six furlong test, first futurity to be run in America this year, favored at 7 to 5.

The bulldog colt, an easy winner in two of his three starts, was made the choice in spite of a tendency to run wide. He was the odds-on favorite for the Prairie State stakes at Washington park, and was leading at the stretch turn. He bore out, however, and before jockey Al Robertson, who was assigned to ride Tiger today, could get him back in stride, his chance of victory was gone.

The second choice was the entry of Bourbon King and Menow, from the Kentucky stable of Hal Price Headley. Bourbon King rated as Tiger's toughest foe, and was expected to face the barrier at 2 to 1.

The rest of the prospective field of nine juveniles numbered Cleveland Putnam's Robber Bold, Pharoace from Warren Wright's Calumet farm stable; Lassator, fleet representative of the Valdina farm of Texas; Joe Schneck, owned by Herbert Woolf of Kansas City, and Tony Pelletier's Garry.

RUBE APPLEBERRY

BIG TEN, PACIFIC COAST ATHLETES IN FINE FETTLE
Los Angeles, June 26.—(AP)—Every member in the pick-up squads of athletes from the Big Ten and Pacific coast conferences was pronounced in good condition today for the first dual track meet staged between the two groups.

The dope sheets favored the Pacific coast forces, boasting such stars as pole vaulters Bill Sefton and Earle Meadows of University of Southern California and George Varoff of Oregon, high hurdler Roy Staley and half-mile Ross Bush of U. S. C.

The mid-westerners similarly were not lacking in brilliant performers. Such representatives as distance runners Don Lash of Indiana, and Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin, and high jumper Dave Tibbitt and Melvin Walker of Ohio State and half-mile Chuck Beetham of the Buckeye squad are on their roster.

In the quarter-mile relay, the Big Ten planned to send Stoller and a trio of Bobbys, Grieve of Illinois, Collier of Indiana and Lewis of Ohio State, against Geo. Boone of U. S. C., Lee Orr and Curtis Ledford of Washington State and Stanford's Jack Weierhauser in hopes of breaking the world mark of 40.8 seconds.

Hectic races were expected between Lash and Fenske in the mile, and between Bush and Beetham in the 850.

"Trans" champion; Gus Moreland, Walker Cup player from Peoria, Ill., 4 and 3.

Kingsley, shooting a blazing 67, five under par, in the first 18, crushed out Frank J. English, home club "threat" 7 and 6. Schumacher erased another Dallas contender, Reynolds Smith, Texas amateur champion and a Walker Cup player, 3 and 1.

CATERPILLAR PET

St. Louis, June 26.—(AP)—Richard Safety carried his entry in the pet show held at his school playground in the palm of his hand. He won a prize for the smallest pet entered. It was a caterpillar.

The Chinese built the streets of Shimaukhai crooked in the belief that devils travel only in straight lines.

300 ATHLETES IN NATIONAL A. A. U. OUTDOOR GAMES

American, Olympic Champions After New Records

Milwaukee, Wis., June 26.—More than 300 of the country's greatest athletes will invade the Marquette university stadium next Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3, for the fiftieth annual running of the National A. A. U. outdoor track and field championships. The games were founded in 1888.

Hopeful of overcoming the threat of unknowns and luminaries of tomorrow, Olympic stars, American champions and world record-holders will figure prominently in the two-day program. At stake in the championships will be national titles, places for the first three men in each event on the United States team which will meet a squad of Central and South American stars at Dallas, Tex., July 15-18, and trips to Japan, Germany, Holland, Finland, France, England and Sweden.

Divided into three programs, the meet will open with the junior and senior 10,000 meter run and necessary junior preliminaries in other events at 2 P. M. Friday (C. S. T.). Junior championships, open to all amateurs who have not won a senior or national title, are billed beneath floodlights at 8 P. M. Friday. The senior national finals will get underway at 2 P. M. Saturday, but if semi-final heats are necessary in any events, the trials will be run off Saturday morning along with the hammer-throw championship.

Finest Field in History
One of the finest fields in the history of the meet, lured possibly by the prospect of foreign tours, is assured More than 30 members of the 1936 American Olympic team and any number of youngsters who just missed the boat to Berlin last summer will be on hand. At least 16 of the champions at Princeton last July will return to defend their titles. Twelve world record-holders will be included.

Several classics already loom on the program, particularly the 1,500 meter run or metric mile. Among those seeking laurels will be Glenn Cunningham, New York Curb Exchange A. A. holder of the world's record of 4:06.8 in the mile run, Archie San Romani, Emporia (Kas.) Teachers, who sped a 4:07.2 at the Princeton invitational; Charles Fenske, Wisconsin's national collegiate winner; Gene Venke, New York A. C., and, possibly, Don R. Lash, Indiana, who lost to San Romani by a step at Princeton.

Continuing their attempt to reach 15 feet in the pole vault, Earle Meadows and Bill Sefton of Southern California may be helped along by George Varoff, Oregon, who holds the official record of 41 feet, 6 1/2 inches. Olympic Champion Cornelius Johnson, Compton, Cal., has promised a 7-foot ceiling in the high jump, and will be pressed by Dave Albritton and Mel Walker, Ohio State; Ed Burke, Marquette, Delos Thurber, Southern California, and others.

Four Olympians Aspire
Four Olympians will be among the sprint crop aspiring to the Metcalf-Owens togs. They are Bobby Packard, Georgia; Sam Stoller, Michigan; Mack Robinson, Pasadena, and Marty Glickman, Syracuse, and Ben Johnson, Columbia, also to be given serious consideration. Forrest Towns of Georgia, holder of the world's record of 141 seconds in the high hurdles, will be opposed by Fritz Pollard, Jr., North Dakota; Allan Tolmich, Wayne; Sammy Allen, Bristow, Okla.; Bob Oskood, Michigan and others.

An early favorite in the middle distances is Johnny Woodruff, Pittsburgh, but also to be considered are the Brown and Rideout twins of North Texas Teachers; Elroy Robinson, San Francisco Olympic club; Ross Bush, Southern California, and many more.

Among additional standouts in the field events will be Ken Carpenter, Los Angeles, and Gordon Dunn, San Francisco, discus; Alton Terry, Olympic club but formerly of Hardin-Simmons, and Bob Peoples, Oklahoma schoolboy, javelin; Kermit King, Pittsburg (Kas.) Teachers, radio sets.

HORN ENTERS CEDAR RAPIDS AUTO CLASSIC

Placed Third in 500 Mile Indianapolis Race This Year

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 26.—Ted Horn, sensational Pacific coast driver, who finished third in the recent Indianapolis 500-mile race and second in the 1936 running of the Hoosier classic, has signed to compete in the A. A. A. sanctioned automobile races to be held here at the Cedar Rapids Speedway Sunday, July 11.

Horn's entry, announced today by the veteran promoter, Ralph A. Hankinson, adds one of the nation's foremost stars to the already strong and colorful field. The Los Angeles ace is famed for his skill in both speedway and dirt track competition and for his boundless daring.

He will come here direct from the International race to be held at the Roosevelt Raceway, Long Island, N. Y., on July 3, where he will be called upon to turn back the racing greats of this and many other nations.

To Drive Miller Special
In his appearance here Horn will drive his own Miller Special, one of the fastest single-seated racing creations campaigning today. Regarded as the last word in speed design and construction, the expensive mount holds a string of records officially recognized by the contest board of the American Automobile association, which rules organized racing in this country with an iron hand.

Competing here, Horn will face off against the strongest field ever to answer a starter's flag in this state. Indianapolis headlines and dirt track stars from many sections will match speed, skill and daring in the six-event program.

Outstanding among the other early entrants is Mauri Rose, the hard-riding Columbus, O., star, who holds the national automobile racing championship. Vast improvements are being made on the Speedway in preparation for the speed jousts. A corps of men has been grooming it for several weeks. The track's surface is undergoing a complete face-lifting, new guard rails are being constructed and other improvements are being made.

GEHRIG, DUCKY MEDWICK STILL LEAD BATTERS

Stick-Wielders Eye Coming All-Star Ball Contest

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Big league batters, with their eyes on a prospective bid to the coming all-star game, turned on the heat this week, but although several climbed way up in the standings, none was able to come close to Ducky Medwick or Lou Gehrig.

Medwick, continuing one of the hottest batting paces in years, collected 13 hits in 30 chances to boost his average three points, thereby showing a 416 season mark after two months of play.

Gehrig, the Yankee clouter, hit just under 400 for the week ended yesterday's games and remained far out in front of the American league with a 392 mark.

ARIE LEADS ONE EVENT OF STATE TRAPSHOOT MEET

Cracks Ninety-One Targets in 22 Yard Event Today

Chicago, June 26.—(AP)—Mark Arie of Champaign, Ill., veteran trap shooting expert, led in one event of the Illinois state shoot today and ranked second in another. Arie cracked 91 targets in the 22-yard event and followed H. C. Jones of East Alton, Ill., in the doubles standing. Jones broke 49 out of 50 targets in the doubles yesterday to head Arie whose score was 48. They were scheduled to finish their duel today.

Jones also was involved in a second place tie in the class championship division. In first place were Joe Heistand of Hillsboro, O., and Ned Lilly of Stanton, Mich., who turned in perfect scores of 100. Jones, C. A. Young of Springfield, O., and Harrison Kennicott of Des Plaines, Ill., followed with 98 scores.

In the class A section, Joe Moore of Kewanee, Ill., and Mike LeGendre of Elgin, Ill., broke 98 targets each for a first place tie, and F. E. Shaw of Joliet, Ill., scored 97 to lead in Class B.

H. H. Holbrook of Sorento, Ill., broke 97 targets to lead in the preliminary 100 handicap division.

Leaders in the yardage events included: 19 yards, W. C. Peacock, Chicago, and L. L. Michale, Rockford, Ill., 86; 20 yards, E. F. Best, St. Louis, 90; 21 yards, Sam Parker, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Walter Wojciechowski, Chicago; Earl Thompson, Peoria, Ill., and Homer Clark, Jr., East Alton, Ill., 89 each.

The mid-westerners similarly were not lacking in brilliant performers. Such representatives as distance runners Don Lash of Indiana, and Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin, and high jumper Dave Tibbitt and Melvin Walker of Ohio State and half-mile Chuck Beetham of the Buckeye squad are on their roster.

In the quarter-mile relay, the Big Ten planned to send Stoller and a trio of Bobbys, Grieve of Illinois, Collier of Indiana and Lewis of Ohio State, against Geo. Boone of U. S. C., Lee Orr and Curtis Ledford of Washington State and Stanford's Jack Weierhauser in hopes of breaking the world mark of 40.8 seconds.

Hectic races were expected between Lash and Fenske in the mile, and between Bush and Beetham in the 850.

"Trans" champion; Gus Moreland, Walker Cup player from Peoria, Ill., 4 and 3.

Kingsley, shooting a blazing 67, five under par, in the first 18, crushed out Frank J. English, home club "threat" 7 and 6. Schumacher erased another Dallas contender, Reynolds Smith, Texas amateur champion and a Walker Cup player, 3 and 1.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Runs	Hits	Home Runs
Augie Galan and Tex Carleton, Cubs—Galan's two homers and single, driving in four runs, and Carleton's five-hit pitching led to 11-2 win over Dodgers.
Red Ruffing, Yankees—Stopped Tigers with six-hits for 8-1 win.
Ducky Medwick, Cardinals—Hit double and homer, driving in two runs, in 9-4 win over Giants.
Mike Kreevich, White Sox—Hit homer and single, driving in two runs, in 7-6 win over Senators.
Alex Kampouris, Reds—Hit double and triple and drove in two runs in beating Bees 6-2.
Earle Browns, Phillies—His three-run homer and single led to 10-5 victory over Pirates.
Buck Newsom, Red Sox—Handcuffed Browns with four hits for 4-2 win.

Ranger And Yankee Face Each Other; Trial Race Today

Newport, R. I., June 26.—(AP)—Ranger, Harold S. Vanderbilt's undefeated candidate for his third defense of the America's Cup today faces Gerald B. Lambert's Yankee, veteran of the 1930 and 1934 cup campaigns, in a trial race.

Yesterday Yankee trounced Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, successful defender of three years ago, by more than 12 minutes, the widest margin of victory in the trials to date.

PAW PAW NEWS

Paw Paw—The following clipping was received from Mrs. J. J. Beemer of Pala, Calif. The Beemers were former residents of this place. Mr. Beemer being a son of M. F. Beemer, and the many friends extend their best wishes.

Laguna's Little Community chapel was the scene for rites at 8 o'clock Saturday evening uniting Miss Ruth Beemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beemer of Pala, and Robert Jennings MacFarlane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivon MacFarlane, 627 East Walnut street. The Rev. Perry Schrock read the ceremony.

"The bride was in white mousseline de soie, with a poke hat and carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and white sweet peas. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ray Walworth, in a gown of yellow organza and carried an arm bouquet of Tallisman roses and sweet peas. Mr. MacFarlane was attended by his brother, John Carey MacFarlane as best man, and William Proctor, usher.

"Halstead McCormac, organist, played 'O Promise Me' as well as the wedding march. He accompanied Mrs. James Newman, who sang 'Because'.

"Both Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane are graduates of Santa Ana high school. The bride has been employed in the office of Dr. Herbert Stroschein, and the bridegroom is an accountant in the offices of the Pacific Freight lines. After a week's honeymoon trip, the young couple will return to make their home in this city. For traveling the bride was attired in a shawl suit of turquoise blue, with accessories in luggage tan.

Missionaries at Baptist Church—On this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Paul and Ella Rostad, missionaries on furlough from Northeast India, will come to the Baptist church and will show 1,600 feet of film depicting scenes of travel and activities in North India. Some of the interesting events shown will be a coronation and a wedding ceremony. Also activities in and around the missionary headquarters, showing the missionaries ministering to the sick, preaching and teaching.

These films are educational and inspiring and everyone is urged to attend and bring your friends. No admission will be charged, but a free will offering will be taken for expenses.

Roscoe Rogers Injured—Roscoe Rogers, son of Joe Rogers, was injured Monday morning when he stepped on a pane of glass while playing out at the tile yard. His heel was cut quite badly, and 25 stitches were necessary to close the wound. He is getting along fine, considering the seriousness of the accident.

Attend Dinner at Lincoln—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds and daughters Ruth and Muriel, Mrs. Ralph Potter and Mrs. Ethel Ferguson enjoyed a picnic dinner at the Orphans Home at Lincoln on Sunday. There were 2,500 in attendance.

The Noble Grand of Paw Paw

lodge picked out an orphan for the local lodge to take care of. She is seven years old and is from Prohietown, is one of two sisters, with both parents dead.

Sisters Club at LaSalle—A number of ladies belonging to the Sisters club had a 6 o'clock dinner and attended a show at LaSalle Thursday evening. Those who were in the group were Mesdames George Kelly, Dee McLaughlin, Floyd Nevins, Orville Henry, Truman Brees, Theodore Elzabach, and the Misses Regina Worsley, Marie Gallagher, Frances Ferguson, Ethel Prentice and Laberta Stern.

Baptist Church Social—A very enjoyable evening was had at the Baptist church Friday evening, sponsored by the Sunday school. Mrs. Nellie Adrian, superintendent, and her committee, A. scramble supper was participated in at 7 o'clock. A long table down the center of the dining room was laden with all the good things to make an enjoyable meal and the members of the congregation and their friends did ample justice to the meal.

Following the supper games were enjoyed for a time after which Rev. Mr. Johnstone held a brief devotional service. This was followed by a fine program presented by the chairman of this part of the evening, Mrs. Cloyd Carnahan. The program follows:

Talk and prayer by Rev. Mr. Johnstone.

Song—Congregation.

Piano duet—Elizabeth and Rosemary Nangle.

Guitar solo—Raymond Weizel.

Saxophone solo—Roberta Taber.

Trio—Marjorie Manahan, Roberta Ulrey, Jessamine Edwards.

Piano solo—Mrs. Jean French.

Song by four young girls—Roberta Tarr, Norma Coss, Audra and Aliene Manahan.

Reading—Marilyn Wheeler.

Song—Helen Meade.

Accordion solo—Lois Tarr.

The program was closed by congregational singing, after which the benediction was given by Rev. Mr. Johnstone.

MRS. TOWN ENTERTAINS—Mrs. H. R. Town delightfully entertained the Birthday Club Tuesday evening with a six-thirty dinner in honor of Mrs. Harry Worsley. Red, the favorite color of the guest of honor, was used in the decorations of a lovely fried chicken dinner topped with ice cream and angel food cake.

Following this feast of good things the guests played bridge with favors going to Mrs. Harry Worsley, Mrs. Henry Knetsch and Mrs. Tillie Weaver.

MOVIES POPULAR—The free motion pictures sponsored by Paw Paw business men, have proved to be very popular. Last Monday the crowd was larger than ever. There were more cars parked on Main street than is often the case on a Saturday night.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PROGRAM—The closing program of the union Vacation Bible school, sponsored by the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Paw Paw, was presented on last Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church to a large and appreciative audience.

Following the professional, in which nearly seventy children took part, the following numbers were given:

Congregational and group singing led by Frank Nangle. A feature of this was the telling of hymn-stories by a number of the children.

Scripture and prayer by Rev. Gilbert Johnstone.

Demonstration by the Kindergarten under the direction of Mrs. Mert Rogers and her assistants. Miss Frances Urish and Miss Velma Milton sang were sung and Bible verses quoted.

Demonstration by the Primary group, Mrs. Harris teacher, in which Bible verses upon which the work book were based, were quoted. Demonstrations by the Junior group, Miss Hazel Willard teacher, consisting of the telling of two missionary stories.

Demonstration by the second Junior group, Miss Elizabeth Nangle teacher, in which the life stories of several great Christian heroes were told.

Religious play, "The Living Water," presented by Rev. Coleman class in religious drama:

Cast: Sarah—Marilyn Wheeler. Miriam—Lorraine Harper. Miriam's younger sister—Audrey Coss.

El—Julian Brewer. Ephraim—Played by Alice Locke. Certificates were given to fifty-eight children. The hand work display was a very definite center of interest, and Mrs. Coleman and her assistants, Mrs. Harley Rosenkrans and Miss Elizabeth Nangle, are to be complimented, as are all of the teachers who were so faithful in their work. Mrs. Frank Nangle presided at the piano throughout the school, and Miss Grace Cornell served as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Hulda Roessler entertained at a family dinner at her home Sunday, June 20th in honor of her father's birthday. Mr. Schneider, those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schneider of Sandwich, Mr. and Mrs. Welsh and children of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Schneider and Esther, Mrs. Fannie Guffin of Earlville and Mrs. S. O. Aigraves of Compton.

Mrs. C. Buchanan was taken to Aurora Sunday June 20th by Dr. Wojcik who gave her a radium treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan and Mrs. I. Collins were in Harvey, Ill., last Friday.

Les Elliott and Truman Brees are doing plumbing work for Fred Mead at Amboy.

Marjorie Chandler of Rockford is visiting this week at the S. A. Wright home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eich of near Compton called at the Clarence Ferguson home on Sunday.

ASHTON

Ashton—Miss Mary Sanford of Washington Grove leaves New York
Saturday for a 10-weeks study tour of Europe which will be conducted by Prof. Mervyn G. Miller, formerly of Mt. Morris College. Headquarters of the Pocono study tour are at the American people's college at Oetz in Tyrol, Austria.The tour will include France, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary,
Czechoslovakia, Germany, Finland, Sweden, Denmark, Italy and England. The group will study adult education, cooperatives and social conditions.Miss Sanford has spent enroute a few days sightseeing in New York and Washington, D. C. She will teach next year in the Amboy junior high school.Ashton high school Ag judging team was given A and B rating among the upper 15 per cent of schools attending the state judging contest held at the University of Illinois last week.Even though the Ashton team won no ribbons this rating is a very high honor considering that there were 2500 Ag students, representing 250 schools in the state, present at the contest. This is the first year such classification has been made.The Ashton teams, representing northern Illinois as sweepstakes champions, were coached by L. V.
Slothower, Ag instructor. The teams were composed of Burnell Henert, and Mrs. Wm. F. Klingbeil.During the business meeting the following officers were elected to serve the coming year: President, Mrs. Richard Sunday; vice president, Mrs. Sarah Losey; secretary,

Mrs. Lelah Knapp; treasurer, Mrs.
Herman Saunders. The society voted to hold a family picnic late in July instead of the monthly meeting, the place to be the city park.The remainder of the afternoon was spent in cutting and piecing quilt blocks after which ice cream and wafers were served by the committee.After missing two band concerts on account of rain the people of Ashton and community were able to listen to the first concert of the season on Wednesday evening. The band, numbering 42, under the leadership of Herman O'May rendered a very fine concert which was much appreciated.Following is the program of the Marriage of Mary Pickford and Buddy

Rogers QuietHollywood, June 26—(AP)—In a ceremony as private as their romance was quiet, Mary Pickford will become the bride of Buddy Rogers late today.The one-time "America's Sweetheart" and "America's Boy Friend" will say "I do" at 3 o'clock this afternoon (5 p. m. CST) in a setting strangely contrasting with the fanfare of their professional careers.Where a thousand invited guests were admitted and 10,000 fans millions of eyes were turned toward the Jeanette MacDonald-Gene Raymond wedding, most recent of Hollywood's big-name nuptials, the Pickford-Rogers guest list numbered only 14—with a big guard of police assigned to see that there are no unwanted additions.The scene itself—a shaded garden nook beneath a spreading oak tree—might have been lifted in its studied simplicity from one of the screen plays in which the bride rose to the movie heights.The Rev. James Hamilton Lash, pastor of the Hollywood Congregational church, will read the ceremony in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Lighton, friends of the bride and groom.
Shortly afterward the couple will embark for a Honolulu honeymoon on the same liner bearing the newly-wed Raymonds.Mary will wear blue, "sky blue," with a small empire type hat colored "le de vin" (dregs of wine).
Her gloves will be of the same shade. Buddy will be attired formally.The maid of honor will be Mrs.
Lighton, known professionally as Hope Loring. It was she who wrote the scenario for "My Best Girl," 10 years ago in which Buddy, then a film newcomer, was Mary's leading man.Best man will be Buddy's younger brother, BH Rogers.
Witnesses to the wedding will be:
Miss Gwynne Pickford, Mary's niece and adopted daughter; Frances Marion, highest paid woman scenarist and Mary's long-time friend; Mrs. Selmar Chalf, Mary's cousin, and her husband, who will give Mary in marriage; and their son, Don; John Lock, husband of the late Lottie Pickford; Mrs. P. E.
Benson, a cousin of Mary's; Buddy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Rogers of Olathe, Kan.; Mrs. John Binford, Buddy's sister, and her daughter, Shirley Jane, and Buddy's aunt, Mrs. William Holsington, all of Chicago.Later 300 motion picture friends and newspaper people will gather at Pickford for a reception. To gain admittance to the hilltop institution named after Mary and her second husband, Douglas Fairbanks, it will be necessary for guests to exhibit a telegraphic invitation signed by Mary.The wedding will be the third for Miss Pickford. Her first husband was Owen Moore, whom she married in 1911, and divorced eight years later. Mary was 16 when she married Moore, who then was 25.Miss Pickford married Douglas Fairbanks, 10 years her senior, in 1920. She divorced him in 1935.
The marriage will be the first for Buddy, 11 years younger than Miss
Pickford, who is 43.FATHER DIVINE

Be Active On West
CoastLos Angeles, June 25—(AP)— Counsel for John Wuest Hunt, wealthy white follower of Father Divine, pointed their defense today toward possible direct intervention by the Harlem Negro cultist in the Mann act case against Hunt.Hugh Macbeth, Hunt's Negro attorney, in announcing that Father Divine might come to his aid, said last night that the cult movement would become active on the west coast."Father Divine will board an airplane and fly to our aid, if needed," said Macbeth, "I probably shall send for him.""As Father Divine's legal representative in these parts," Macbeth continued, "I might say he means to concentrate on this section—from the Rocky Mountains to the ocean, and from Alaska to Mexico.""We mean to let his religious movement take charge of politics out here."Hunt, curiously termed "John the Revelator" and "Jesus Christ," will testify next Tuesday, Macbeth said, adding:"And what he's going to say will lift the lid off this court building.
It's going to be another earthquake."
Two of Hunt's co-defendants, Mrs.
Elizabeth Peters, known in thecult as "Peaceful Martha," and Mrs. Agnes "Mary Magdalene," whether there was a great light Gardner, were unable to agree on where Hunt was standing when Delight Jewett, 17, whom he is accused of betraying, met him in Den-

AT Apache Junction, 36 miles from Phoenix, the Colters took the left and moved along the road that skirts the north base of Superstition Mountain. The family had made some inquiries, learning that squatters would be tolerated for a time almost anywhere along the mountain slopes.
This was part of a national forest.
They pulled off the main road and drove nearly six miles across the gently sloping desert.When they made camp for the night they were at the foot of a cliff that must have been 1000 feet straight up. It somehow awed them, shrinking them to animated minutiae and making their khaki tent a mere brown speck in the forest.Carolee threw back her head and shouted "HELLO-O-O," but they were too close for an echo.
"Can't you help cook no supper?" her father demanded.They stayed there three days, while the men searched for a more permanent campsite. They wanted to get in deeper, and they eventually decided to hide the car among shrubbery, buy horses which they would need anyway, and pack everything up to a high,
flat, green mesa which they had discovered. It would save much climbing on their daily trips and, incidentally, get them away from possible snoopers; the Colters, save for Carolee, were never sociable, least of all were they likely to be so when hunting for gold.They stayed there three days,

"My name . . . Percy," said he, haltingly.All the Colters laughed a little

he got that name."WHITE man in store," he said.
"He no like Horse-With-

"Away up there—see?—up in

Some of them had faces, some were hats, some were humped and some were leaning, but they were applied named."You mean—they were white people, and were turned to stone?" Carolee asked him.
"Unh." His grunt was affirmative.He came unannounced and uninvited. Over his hunched shoulders draped a colorful blanket. He was hatted, his hair exceedingly long. Carolee knew him at once to be an Indian.immensely, especially the obvious disfigurement of her father and brothers. Neither she nor they knew what was going on, but she wasn't taking it seriously. She felt safe with her folks there.When he had eaten—or rather

were hats, some were humped and
some were leaning, but they were applied named."You mean—they were white
people, and were turned to stone?" Carolee asked him.
"Unh." His grunt was affirmative.the? You know anything about it?""Unh." Percy appeared totally ignorant. Mr. Colter tried several more facts, doing his best to get information from Percy, but enjoyed no success. Once Percy pointed again to the Little Men, and finally he arose again to leave them. He didn't bother to say goodbye, he departed as unceremoniously as he had arrived."THET Redskin mighta knowed something," commented old man Colter, "but dang his tight hide, he won't tell."This seemed to be a logical summary of the situation. The three men turned their conversation to Carolee."First time I ever see a man
call on a gal and take candy away from her," Silas teased. All three of them laughed at and with her.Then Paul Colter put in a sour note. He was the most sullen member of the family."Seems like you're plenty interested in this fellow Blake, Sis.
Couldn't you think of no more questions to ask about him?"Her temper flashed quickly then.
"What if I did ask about him?"
she challenged. "He's the only man who's been decent to me since I left school. And you even tried to kill him. You've dragged mother and me a thousand miles from home and stuck us up on a mountain. Do you think I want to be a hermit?"Nobody answered immediately.
None of the other Colters could keep conversational pace with Carolee, whom they loved in a strange fashion, enough to have sent her through a junior college, and who had grown too far away from them. Old man Colter re-up at this."You like get gold?" He motained, in suggestion, to the mountain."Yes, yes we do, boy," said Mr.
Colter. "The gold up here, ain't

GOOD THOUGHTS

Ah! when shall all men's good
Be each man's rule, and universal peace
Lie, like a shaft of light, across the land.
—Pennyson

It is not distance, but discord, which separates mortals.
—Albert F. Gilmore.

The Sermon on the Mount is the answer to the world's economic confusion; and the only adjustments for righteousness that can be made that will endure, lie in the preaching of the gospel of Christ, and in the living the gospel of Christ among men and among nations.
—Rev. Albert Norman Ward

We believe in the brotherhood of man, because we believe in the Fatherhood of God.
—Calvin Coolidge

When we seek the divine way, we shall find that we have true sympathy in our relation to each other.
We shall perceive that it is divinely natural to live and think unitedly.
—The Christian Science Monitor

For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. . . There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female; for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.
—Galatians 2

TENT REVIVAL

This evening will be what is called family night at the tent revival being conducted on First street.
There will be a gift to the parents of the largest family present. Evangelist Slipp will speak on the subject, "The Rose of Sharon."

Thursday night, speaking on the subject of the "Unknown God." Mr.
Slipp stated: Those who think there is any other way into Heaven other than by the way of the cross are wrong. Is it not true the God of peace is unknown in this distracted world. The God of love is unknown in His power to save.
Many know about Him, but few know Him personally, which really is everyone's privilege. Those who are acquainted with Him are certain of their experience. If one can become a Christian without knowing it, he could lose the experience without missing it.

There will be a special musical program tonight. All are welcome to these meetings. Saturday night
Rev. Slipp will speak on the subject
"Where Is Hell?"

BRETHREN CHURCH

invited.

Everybody's service at 7:30. This service has been planned to be helpful to everybody. Mrs. Orville LeGore will lead a round table discussion on the subject of "Christian Growth" and the following topics will be open for discussion:
How Does Sunday School Attendance Affect Christian Growth; The Responsibility of the Home in Promoting Christian Growth; The Influence of the Sunday School Teacher and Ministers on Christian Growth; What Has Been the Greatest Factor in Your Life in Causing Christian Growth; Tell
Some Things That Hinder Christian Growth; What Do We Mean by Christian Growth; Does Christian Growth Depend on Faith or Works? The pastor will speak on the subject of "When Will You Do with Jesus?" Helen Butterbaugh will play a piano solo and Phyllis and Flossie Gallentine will sing. If you enjoy a good wide awake service you will enjoy this one. Come and bring your friends.

Sunday school 9:30 A. M. Leo L.
Rigby, Supt.

Bring the children to Sunday school, instead of sending them. A special invitation is extended to parents to attend the adult Bible class. Clyde Buckingham, teacher.
The discussion Sunday will be "The Contributions of Christianity to Human Progress." Some of the questions for consideration will be:
has Christianity hindered the progress of Science? what are its contributions to art, ethics, government? what about our present civilization? Plan to be present next Sunday.

Morning worship 10:45 A. M.
Theme: "Building Monuments."
The theme for Sunday's church service will be in keeping with the dedication of the monument at Grand Detour. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

A nursery for small children is
